FACTORY, FARM and MINE

ADEQUATE power is the basis on which many of the small towns of central and southern Illinois are building toward a full realization of their industrial possibilities. The Central Illinois Public Service Company, serving three hundred and thirty communities, has gone beyond the provision of generating and transmission facilities: it has co-operated with the citizens of the towns it serves in securing industrial enterprises. It has surveyed the economic characteristics of the territory and helped to place the advantages of each community before industries seeking factory sites. To community and Company alike the results are significant. In one recent instance the joint efforts of the Company and the chamber of commerce of a town of 5,000 population brought a factory employing six hundred people—a substantial relative gain in population, profitable employment for local workers and more money to be spent among local merchants. An important new power demand and a proportionate increase in residential consumption were the advantageous results for the Company. The interconnected transmission system of the Central Illinois Public Service Company covers an area of approximately seventeen thousand square miles, including urban industries, farms which have learned the value of electric service and a mining territory in which electricity has been put to extensive use. Adequacy of power to these various activities is a factor of marked importance in their economic advancement: and the diversity of uses has contributed to steady and economical operation of the Company's system.

Electric light and power, gas and transportation companies under the management and control of the Midland Utilities Company serve a total of 204 prosperous communities of Indiana, Ohio and Michigan with an aggregate population of 925,000.

Favored by advantageous geographical location and abundant natural resources, the territory in which these companies operate is marked for tremendous growth in population and industrial activity. Already the business of the subsidiary companies is of the widest conceivable diversification, including among other sources of revenue, sales of large blocks of power to steel foundries, lead and oil refineries, car equipment plants, sand and gravel pits, municipal water works, electric railways and gas heat to an ever increasing number of manufacturing.

* * *

At the close of 1926 customers served with electricity by Midland subsidiaries totaled 88,511 and those furnished with gas service 148,485. Sales of electric energy for the year amounted to 271,703,785 kilowatt hours and gas sales to approximately 8,626,687,000 cubic feet, or a gain of 17.3 and 14.8 per cent, respectively, over 1925.

* * *

Gross revenue of the subsidiary companies in 1926 totaled $19,886,734. Of this amount 37 per cent was derived from the sale of gas, 36 per cent from sales of electrical energy, 25 per cent from furnishing transportation service and 2 per cent from other sources.

THE 25 counties of Northern Indiana supplied with electric light and power and gas by the Northern Indiana Public Service Company, including the celebrated Calumet industrial region near Chicago, are enjoying a steady growth in population and industrial activity. Year after year the facilities of the company are being expanded to meet their multiplied demands.

THE remarkable diversification of the company's business is illustrated by the fact that in 1926 47 per cent of gross revenue was derived from sales of gas, 51 per cent from sales of electrical energy and 2 per cent from sales of water and heat and from other sources. Gross operating revenue of the company for the year ended December 31, 1926, was $10,986,678. After payment of all charges there remained applicable to dividends a total of $2,683,970, an increase of more than 38 per cent over the previous year.

THE capital structure of the company at the close of the year was constituted as follows: Common stock, $13,529,000; preferred stocks, $11,400,000; funded debt, $27,000,000. Of the total stocks and bonds outstanding at that time, stock represented 48 per cent and bonds 52 per cent of the capitalization.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—

The company and its subsidiaries furnish electric, gas, street railway, motor coach, heat, water and ice services in more than 470 communities in an area having a population of over 1,300,000. The power and light properties, including recently completed power plants near Des Moines, Ia., and Topeka, Kan., comprise electric generating stations with an aggregate capacity of 390,820 h. p. installed or in process of installation, and distributing systems furnishing electricity without competition to over 248,000 customers.

The gas properties have an installed daily generating capacity of over 26,925,000 cu. ft. of artificial gas and distributing systems serving over 88,000 customers in a business field having an estimated population of more than 485,000, including among others the cities of Danville, Urbana, Champaign, Decatur, Belleville, East St. Louis, Granite City, Centralia, Clinton, Jacksonville, Galesburg, La Salle and Cairo, Ill., and Oskaloosa, Ia.

The city railway properties, comprising over 235 miles of track, serve the cities of Danville, Champaign, Urbana, Decatur, Peoria (86,564), Cairo Quincy (37,478), Bloomington, Galesburg, Ottawa, Illinois; Atchison Topeka and Wichita (90,465), Kansas, and Oskaloosa, Iowa. Bus service is furnished also in most of these cities.

The electric trunk line railroad, comprising over 550 miles of main line, modern, standard-gauge railroad, is equipped with automatic block signal systems, repair shops, car barns and 1,234 freight and passenger cars. This system connects the cities of Peoria, Springfield, Bloomington, Danville, Urbana, Champaign and Decatur with Edwardsville, Granite City, Madison, Venice and St. Louis, entering St. Louis over a steel toll bridge owned by the corporation in fee, into its own terminal in the heart of St. Louis. Another trunk line connects the cities of Joliet, Ottawa, Marselles, Peru and Princeton. A subsidiary, the St. Louis Troy & Eastern RR., operates a steam road of 45 miles, which enters East St. Louis and exchanges traffic with the St. Louis Belt System.

The electric railroad, except in municipalities, is almost entirely on private right-of-way.

Stock.—Preferred 6% and 7% stock is entitled to 6% and 7% cum. divs. before all other stocks of the co., provided net earnings are equal to 9% or more of the outstanding 6% and 7% cum. pref. stock after interest and 14% maintenance and depreciation funds. Has equal voting power, share for share, with every other share of capital stock outstanding. In case of involuntary liquidation entitled to $100 plus accrued and accumulated divs.; if voluntary, to $105 plus divs. before all other stocks. Additional 6% and 7% cum. pref. stock over and above the now authorized amount may be issued to be paid in full, provided combined net earnings of corp. and its subsidiaries available for pref. divs. for 12 out of preceding 15 months have been at least twice annual 6% and 7% cum. pref. divs., incl. new issue, and provided assets of the corp. incl. proceeds from sale of additional issue, over and above co.'s debts, are at least $125 per 6% and 7% cum. pref. share (incl. new issue). No other stock equal or superior may be created if upon notice holders of 1-5th of outstanding 6% and 7% cum. pref. stock object. The issuance of additional funded debt is also restricted and in certain cases may be prevented by 1-5th of holders of 6% and 7% pref. stock objecting to it. This 6% and 7% cum. pref. stock is callable on 60 days' notice as a whole or by lot in amounts of 5,000 shares or multiples thereof, on any div. date, at 105 plus divs. In July 1925 $5,000,000 1st pref. 7% stock was offered by Blyth, Witter & Co., N. Y., at 95 & div. to yield about 7.37%. V. 119, p. 197. In Feb. 1926 Blyth, Witter & Co. offered $2,000,000 1st pref. 7% stock at 100 & divs. V. 122, p. 1169. In July 1926 $1,500,000 1st pref. 6% stock was offered by the corporation at 92 to yield 6.52%. V. 122, p. 1169. The 1st pref. 6% cum. stock (authorized on July 14 1926 when the dividend rate on 70,000 unissued 1st pref. shares was changed from 7% to 6%. V. 123, p. 842), has the same rights as the 7% pref. stock, the only difference being in the rate of yield.

Bonds.—The first & refund. mtge. provides for an improvement fund. Additional bonds in excess of $63,700,000 of any series under this mortgage maturing not more than 30 years from certification, and of such tenor (maximum interest 7%) as directors may from time to time determine, may only be issued (a) approx. $100,000 for new additions, &c., to the electric generating and distributing systems; (b) for 75% of new acquisitions, &c.; (c) for refunding purposes. Sinking fund may be established for the exclusive benefit of one or more particular series. No additional bonds may be issued unless net earnings before bond interest for 12 out of preceding 15 months have been 10% of the principal amount or 1½ times (whichever is greater) annual interest requirements on all mtge. bonds, incl. new issues. Int. pay. in Chicago or New York. Penna. 4 mills and Maryland 4½ mills taxes and Conn. and Dist. of Columbia personal property taxes not exceeding 4 mills per $1 per annum, and Mass. income tax on int. not exceeding 6% of such int. per annum refunded.

Rollins & Sons, Harris, Forbes & Co., Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., &c., &c., at 97 and int. to yield over 5.70%. V. 119, p. 2761. In May, 1925, Halsey, Stuart & Co. sold $5,000,000 at 99½ and int., yielding over 5.50%. In Dec. 1925 E. H. Co. agrees to place no additional mtge. on its properties (except as substitution for its existing 1st & ref. mtge. dated April 2 1923), unless these debts (30-yr. 5½%) are ratably secured by the lien thereof, and to issue no additional deb. bonds if, on notice by publication, holders of one-third of principal amount of this issue object. Additional bonds may, however, be issued under conservative restrictions of the 1st & ref. mtge. or any such substitute mtge. No substitute mtge. is allowed to be issued that is more favorable to the corporation than is permitted by the 1st & ref. mtge. Trust agreement provides for payment to trustee of $80,000 on each int. date during the life of this issue for retirement of these debts, by purchase or by call. It is estimated that sinking fund will retire over 50% of the whole issue by maturity. Int. payable in New York or Chicago. ## Edison Service in Chicago

THE ever-increasing demand for electricity in the City of Chicago, for lighting homes, public buildings, places of business and for turning the wheels of industry and transportation, has resulted in the rapid growth of the Commonwealth Edison Company.

In thirty-eight years, the capacity of the system has grown from 640 kilowatts to 965,000 kilowatts. During the same period, the population has increased only slightly more than two hundred percent. Today—the Commonwealth Edison Company has a larger capacity than any other single electricity supply company in the world.

As shown in the charts below, the number of customers has increased four times in the last fourteen years, and now totals over eight hundred and sixty four thousand. In the same time, the output of electrical energy has increased almost four and one-half times.

Further information concerning the Company and its securities will be gladly furnished upon request.

(1) CHICAGO CITY RAILWAY.

Chicago City & Conn. Rys. Collateral Trust owns 169,719 shares of the capital stock.

Default in Bonds.—The bonds maturing Feb. 1 1927 were defaulted, but no receivership was deemed necessary as yet. V. 123, p. 3180. Compare also opening paragraphs of separate statement below of "Chicago Surface Lines," where also the names are given of a protective committee.

Unified Operation of Surface Lines.—See "Chicago Surface Lines" for details of unification ordinance under which the lines of this company are operated jointly with those of the Chicago Railways Co. as a single system under the control of a joint Board of Operation.

ORGANIZATION.—Incorporated in Feb. 1859, and has extensive surface road privileges in the south division of Chicago. Has a contract expiring Jan. 31 1927 with the Commonwealth-Edison Co., for the supply of its entire power requirements. The railway has abandoned its producing plants but retains its distributing plants.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—(Incl. Southern St. Ry.). Co. owns 357.05 miles of single track, all now operated by electricity. System covers the South Side of Chicago, extending from the centre of the business district south to 79th St. and between the South Branch of the Chicago River and the Lake.

Ordinances and Franchises.—On Feb. 4 1907 the City Council passed ordinances providing for a settlement of the franchise question. These ordinances were approved at the city election on April 2 1907 and formally accepted by the company's board of directors on April 15 1907. Suit to set aside franchise was dismissed in April 1912. V. 94, p. 1118. An extended outline of these ordinances, one to the Chicago City Railway Co., and covering the lines operated by that company, and the other to the Chicago Rys. Co., and covering the lines of the former Chicago Union Traction Co. (now the Chicago Railways Co.), was given in V. 84, p. 1123. The value of the tangible and intangible property of the Chicago City Ry. at date of the ordinances was fixed at $21,000,000. The city or any company authorized by it is given the right on Feb. 1 or Aug. 1 of any year, on six months' notice, to purchase the entire property of the two systems, or either of them, at their value at date of ordinance, plus "the cost of rehabilitation and extensions, including fair allowances for construction, profit and brokerage." But if the properties are acquired for operation by a private corporation, for its own profit, the purchase price is to be increased 20%—barring the case of a private company which might be willing to turn over to the city all profits above 5% on the cost of the investment. The companies are limited during their operation to an interest return of 5% upon the agreed value plus the cost of rehabilitation and extensions. All net profits above this are to be divided on the basis of 55% to the city and 45% to the companies, but a deficit in any year is to be made good out of the profits of subsequent years. After April 15 1910 the companies are required to set aside 6% of the gross receipts for maintenance and repairs and an additional 8% of the gross receipts to cover renewals and depreciation. Whatever portion of the two funds is not used remains in the funds and passes to the city or its licensee upon purchase. But if the two funds are not sufficient for the purposes named, the companies are obligated to supply additional funds. The franchises granted by the ordinances run until Feb. 1 1927. Purchase price of the property Jan. 31 1927, $55,776,789.

On Jan. 29 1912 City Council passed an ordinance providing for the acquisition by Chicago City Ry. of city lines of the Chicago & Southern Trac. Co. V. 94, p. 349, 629. The latter was sold at foreclosure in Feb. 1912. The lines outside the city were taken over by the Chic. & Interurban Ry.

With an addition of 20% in price, city may also purchase for the purpose of turning property over to other parties (if purchased for Chicago City Ry. only 12% additional need be paid), but this additional sum need not be paid where these other parties agree to pay over to the city all of the profits above 5% on the purchase price. ## CHICAGO SURFACE LINES.

Receivership Chicago Rys. Co.—On Dec. 15 1926 Judge Wilkerson appointed John J. Mitchell, Henry A. Blair and F. H. Rawson receivers in connection with the approaching default as to the principal of various bond issues maturing Feb. 1 1927, as of which date the existing franchises also were to expire, no definite provision having been made for the renewal of the latter. Only the north and west side lines were affected by this receivership, the south side lines, consisting of Chicago City Ry., Calumet & South Chicago Ry., and Southern Street Ry., were not put under receivership for the time being. The agreement for unified operation of all the lines was to be continued during receivership. V. 123, p. 3181; V. 124, p. 1664. See paragraph below "New Franchise."

See below for description of the "Lisman Plan" and also for various protective committees.
 F. J. Lisman & Co. Propose to Take Lines Over.—In Aug. 1926 F. J. Lisman & Co. and associates submitted proposals to Mayor Dever and J. B. McDonough, Chairman of the Local Transportation Committee of the City Council, to take over and operate the Chicago surface lines and motor bus service under a 20-year franchise.

The proposers of the plan claim that under its terms, reorganization of the companies can be effected without a receivership or the granting of an indeterminate franchise which would necessitate action by the Illinois Legislature. (The present franchises expire Jan. 31 1927, coincidentally with the maturity of large bond issues.)

The Lisman plan provides for construction of subways, extensions and additions to present property, unification and transfers with the elevated lines, extended motor bus service, and a service-at-cost fare, not exceeding present rates. A new company, to be organized under the plan, will create a first mortgage to cover an authorized issue of first mortgage bonds, aggregating about $345,000,000, issuable in three series: $50,000,000 series A 5½%, dated Feb. 1 1927, due in 20 years, to be sold for cash to provide funds for immediate construction and improvements; $95,000,000 series B 5s, dated Feb. 1 1927, due in 20 years, to be given par for par to holders of present first mortgage bonds; series C bonds to be available at rate of $50,000,000 for each 10-year extension of franchise; or, in event that an indeterminate franchise be granted at a later date, the entire remaining authorized issue to be available at any time.

The new company will also create a general mortgage dated Feb. 1 1927, junior to above first mortgage bonds, to secure approximately $70,000,000, of which, roughly, half shall be series A and half series B, series A being preferred over series B. These general mortgage bonds are to be exchanged for junior interests in the existing companies, insofar as the city purchase price will permit. Series A will be 5s and run 25 years, with the right of new company to retain one-fifth of the accruing interest for the first three years to be used toward payment of organization expenses. Series B general mortgage to mature in thirty years and bear interest at rate of 4% for first five years, 4½% for the second five years, and 5% thereafter, with right of new company to retain half of the interest of such bonds for the first three years for reorganization expenses.

The plan provides for a cumulative sinking fund applicable to each bond issue of the company, sufficient to retire all such bonds by maturity. Also provides that each subsequent series of first mortgage bonds which may be issued, shall have a cumulative sinking fund to retire that series within the life of the franchise then in force, or in case of an indeterminate franchise, within not more than fifty years from date of issue.

The City of Chicago, under the plan, may acquire thirty years hence, when all bonds shall have been retired by operation of the sinking funds, ownership of the entire transportation systems free and clear of debt, without further cost.

On the basis of the city purchase price the present outstanding securities will (under the Lisman plan) receive:

Chicago Rys. 1st 5s, Chicago City Rys. 1st 5s and Calumet & South Chicago 1st 5s will receive in par new co. 1st mtge. 20-year 5s, series B.

Chicago Rys. gen. 5s, series A, will receive par in new co. mtge. series A 25-yr. bonds, bearing int. at the rate of 4% for 3 years and 5% thereafter.

Chicago Rys. series B bonds will receive new co. 30-year general mtge. series B bonds, with int. thereon at the rate of 2% for 3 years, 4% for 2 years thereafter, then 4½% for 5 years, and 5% up to 1957.

The Chicago City Ry. stock will receive approx. the city purchase value of about 118%, half more or less payable in new general mtge. series A bonds and the other half in general mtge. B bonds.

Chicago City & Connecting Ry. 5% bonds will presumably receive the proceeds of securities deposited under their mtge., which is likely to work out approx. 50% each in general mtge. "A" and "B."

Chicago City & Connecting pref. stock has a city purchase value of approx. 32%, which it will presumably receive in general mtge. "B" bonds.

Chicago Rys. purch. money 5s, being within the city purchase price, will also receive general mtge. 5s. dollar for dollar, their proportion of "A" or "B" bonds to be determined later.

Chicago Rys. adj. inc. 4s have a small equity in the city purchase price, which would be paid in new general mtge. "B" bonds.

Further particulars about this plan, its possible effects and the opposition against it will be found in V. 123, p. 1112, 1249, 1502, 1603, 1761, 1956, 1995, 2137, 2774, 2895.

Proposed Ordinance.—For details as to an ordinance submitted by the Transportation Committee on Jan. 7 1927 and drawn up by attorneys of the companies and the Corporation Counsel for the city and attorneys representing the protective committees, also for an ordinance submitted on Jan. 10 1927 to the Mayor and City Council by H. M. Blair, see V. 124, p. 642.

New Franchise.—Particulars about a new franchise sought by Chicago's traction companies at the expiration of the franchises on Feb. 1 1927, are given in V. 121, p. 329. In Jan. 1926 committees were formed to protect security holders in connection with the franchise situation. A day-to-day permit ordinance was passed by City Council of Chicago Jan. 26 1927 (accepted by surface lines companies Jan. 27 1927) for unified operation of the surface street railways until July 31 1927, with privilege to city and companies of cancellation upon 30 days' notice. V. 124, p. 790.

CHICAGO RAILWAYS CO.

Receivership.—On creditors' suit brought by Westinghouse Elec. & Mfg. Co., John J. Mitchell, Henry A. Blair and Frederick H. Rawson were appointed receivers of the property of Chicago Rys. Co. on Dec. 15 1926 by the U. S. District Court at Chicago. This action was taken in view of maturity on Feb. 1 1927 of all the co.'s bonded debt. The Court ordered the receivers to preserve unified operation of all surface street railways in Chicago by utilizing Chicago Surface Lines Board of Operation as their operating agency until further order of the Court. On Feb. 2 1927 Harris Trust & Savings Bank, as trustee of 1st mtge. bonds, filed its foreclosure bill and asked for appointment of receivers. Messrs. Mitchell, Blair and Rawson were on the same date appointed receivers under the foreclosure suit. For description of Lisman Plan, various protective committees and new franchise, see under Chicago Surface Lines.

Unified Operation of Surface Lines.—See "Chicago Surface Lines" for details of Unification Ordinance of 1914, under which the lines of this company are operated jointly with those of the Chicago City Ry. as a single system under the control of a joint board of operation. As to plan for unification of surface and elevated lines, see "Chicago Elevated Rys."

Protective Committee.—See under "Chicago Surface Lines" above. V. 122, p. 1607, 1917, 2039; V. 123, p. 453.

ORGANIZATION.—Incorp. in Illinois in Oct. 1903 and on Jan. 25 1908 acquired at foreclosure sale the property of the old Chicago Union Traction, comprising the lines of the North and West Chicago Street RR. The purchase was made under a modified plan of reorganization and readjustment dated Oct. 15 1907 and outlined in V. 85, p. 1269; see also p. 1576.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Co. operates the north and west side lines in Chicago. Comprises 594.8 miles of track (including 128 miles of the former Chicago Consolidated Traction Lines). Operates 2,180 passenger cars, 258 miscellaneous cars.

Franchises.—On Feb. 5 1907 the City Council passed ordinances providing for a settlement of the relations between the city and the street railway companies. V. 84, p. 338, 390. The franchises granted by the ordinance expire Feb. 1 1927 (extended to Aug. 1 1927) and were approved at the popular election held April 2 1907. On Oct. 10 1910 supplemental ordinance was passed expiring Feb. 1 1927, covering lines of Chicago Consol. Trac. properties. V. 91, p. 1025.

See also under "Chicago City Ry." above. A very extended outline was printed in the "Chronicle" of May 11 1907, pages 1123, 1124 and 1125, to which the reader is referred for detailed information.

The ordinance for the Chicago Rys. Co. provides that the valuation of the properties acquired shall be deemed and considered to be $29,000,000 (the value fixed by a board of expert engineers acting for the city) plus $1,779,875 for expenditures from the date of the valuation on June 30 1906 to Feb. 1 1907, making total valuation of properties as recognized by ordinance $30,779,875 as of Feb. 1 1907. With the expenditures already made, the valuation of road, equipment and franchises on Jan. 31 1926 was computed at $94,258,469. For further provisions of ordinance see "Electric Railway" Supplement of April 26 1924.

Control by Trustees.—The trust indenture securing the participation certificates provides that until Aug. 1 1912 and to the full extent thereafter which may be permitted by law until all of the consolidated mortgage bonds of the company shall be fully paid and discharged, the directors of the company shall be elected by trustees, now consisting of Messrs. Harrison B. Riley, Halman G. Pettibone, Abel Davis, Frank G. Gardner and Henry J. Tansley, and provision is made in the trust deed securing the first mtge. bonds for the appointment of a permanent finance committee, now composed of Messrs. Henry A. Blair, B. A. Eckhart and F. H. Rawson, Chicago.

In 1925 the East St. Louis & Suburban Ry. Co. acquired control of the Blue Goose Motor Coach Co., operating buses between Belleville, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo. V. 121, p. 3130, and the Red Line Motor Co., operating between Collinsville and Greenville, Ill.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—The above companies own and operate all electric railway lines in East St. Louis and Alton and interurban lines to Belleville, Edwardsville, Collinsville, Caseyville, O'Fallon, Maryville, Lebanon, Brooklyn, Venice, Madison, Granite City and Alton, and the only electric line across the Eads Bridge, connecting East St. Louis with St. Louis. Cars are operated over this bridge under a 50-year exclusive contract expiring in 1952. Through arrangement with Illinois Traction Co. the interurban cars from Alton are run into their terminal in St. Louis. Freight, principally coal, is handled in addition to passengers on the lines between East St. Louis and Belleville. Also do entire electric lighting and power business in East St. Louis and the electric lighting, gas and power business in Alton. Total mileage operated, 128, of which owned, 126 miles, and leased, 2 miles. Owns 129 passenger cars, 814 freight cars, 21 service and express cars, 3 electric and 2 steam locomotives. The Alton railway, electric light and power franchises expire in 1948; the Alton gas and steam-heating franchises are perpetual; Granite City and Madison franchises expire in 1925, Brooklyn in 1921. The interurban line to Alton, outside of city limits, is nearly all on private right-of-way. County franchises covering remaining suburban lines expire up to 1948. Electric light and power franchises in East St. Louis expire 2007.

During 1926 the Alton Granite & St. Louis Traction Co., which had been in the hands of a receiver since Aug. 12 1919, was sold under foreclosure, the property being purchased by the North American Co., the holder of the bonds. The property of Alton Gas & Electric Co. was included in the foreclosure sale. These two companies are, therefore, no longer subsidiaries of the East St. Louis & Suburban Co.

Interest Payments.—The interest due Feb. 1 1919 on the A. G. & St. L. Trac. Co. 1st consol 5s was paid in Aug. 1919. The interest due Aug. 1 1919 was paid Feb. 1 1920. None paid since. V. 111, p. 1751; V. 113, p. 414. (See under "Sub-company Receivership" above.)

KENTUCKY ELECTRIC POWER CORP.

Management.—Stuart, James & Cooke, Inc., of New York, consulting engineers.

ORGANIZATION.—Incorp. January 1926 in Delaware. Formerly Kentucky & West Virginia Power Co., Inc. Furnishes electric light and power to the municipality of Nortonville, Ky., and to the principal plant of the Norton Coal Mining Co. at Nortonville. Upon completion of additions and improvements under construction corp. proposes to supply electric light and power to the entire group of mines of the Norton Coal Mining Co. one of the largest producers of coal in the State; other important industries and mines in western Kentucky centering at Nortonville, and various municipalities in this section. It was stated that the electric light and power load, under contract or assured upon completion of additions, incl. transmission lines, would absorb the estimated output of the new plant.

Corp. owns an integrated group of properties, incl. a mine-mouth power plant, extensive coal deposits and water reserves. A new unit containing a 6,250-kva. Westinghouse turbine, with provision for extension to 62,500 kva., is being added to the present power station at Nortonville, giving corp. a total generating capacity of 9,350 kva. The new modern plant under construction is situated at the mouth of the principal mine of the Norton Coal Mining Co., which under a 30-year contract agrees to deliver coal directly to the power plant conveyors, eliminating rail transportation and handling charges, thereby insuring a very low fuel cost. Fuel requirements are further protected by the corp.'s direct ownership of large coal reserves. V. 122, p. 3337.

LOUISVILLE RAILWAY CO.

ORGANIZATION.—Incorp. in Kentucky on Jan. 22 1867 and owns all the street railways in the City of Louisville and its suburbs. In Sept. 1922 the co. commenced operating under an "adjusted franchise" for which it exchanged its equity in long-term franchises with the City of Louisville. The "adjusted franchise" containing variable-rate and sliding-scale-of-dividend provisions, runs for 20 years. The rights of the bondholders in the long-term franchises are said not to be affected by the present operating arrangement. Compare V. 123, p. 2261.

Holding Company Dissolved.—See "Electric Railway" Supplement of April 26 1924.

The Louisville & Interurban RR. has been organized in the interest of the Louisville Ry. to construct a system of urban and interurban lines. No securities have been issued except $4,000,000 stock (increased to that amount in February 1913) to Louisville Ry. Co. In Jan. 1911 Louisville & Interurban RR. acquired the Louisville & Eastern RR. (all of whose bonds, construction notes, receivers' certificates, &c., and about all the stock, was owned by Louisville & Interurban), sold at foreclosure January 3 1911. V. 92, p. 59, 262.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—The Louisville Ry. Co. owns 172.76 miles of track on 80 miles of streets and 9.86 miles in yards, &c.; 3.52 miles are outside city limits; all is electric. Affords entrance into Louisville for the Interstate Public Service Co. The Louisville & Interurban owns 105.57 miles of track in Jefferson County, incl. extensions to La Grange and to Shelbyville, in Oldham and Shelby counties. Through the Kentucky Carriers, Inc., a subsidiary, the co. operates buses. V. 117, p. 86.

Valuation.—See V. 112, p. 849.

Fare Increased.—Effective Feb. 1 1926, co. was granted a straight 7-cent fare, which, it was declared, would probably increase co.'s earnings from $300,000 to $500,000 annually. See "Electrical Railway Journal" of Feb. 6 1926.

CINCINNATI NEWPORT & COVINGTON LIGHT & TRACTION CO.

ORGANIZATION.—Incorporated under the laws of New Jersey on March 11 1902 and purchased all the stock of the Union Light, Heat & Power Co. of Covington and of the Cincinnati Newport & Covington Railway. V. 74, p. 576. The latter was organized in 1892 to buy up and consolidate all the roads on the Kentucky side of the river opposite Cincinnati.

Prior to July 1 1922 the South Covington & Cincinnati St. Ry. Co., a Ky. corp. (formerly one of the constituent cos. of the Cinc. Newport & Cov. Ry. Co., an Ohio corp.) acquired direct ownership of all the street railway properties formerly owned by the Cinc. Newport & Cov. Ry. Co. and its subsidiaries (except the Cinc. Cov. & Rosedale Ry. Co. and the Cinc. Cov. & Erlanger Ry. Co., whose stock it acquired) and changed its name to the Cincinnati Newport & Covington Ry. Co. (a Kentucky corporation).

Lease.—The Union Lt., Ht. & Power Co. and the Cinc. Newp. & Cov. Ry. (both controlled through stock ownership by the Cinc. Newp. & Cov. Lt. & Tr.) were leased from Apr. 1 1907 to Columbia Gas & Electric Co. (Incorporated in Ohio) for 45 years. The lessee guarantees interest on bonds and 4 1/4% per annum on pref. stock. On common, divs. are to be 3% for first year, increasing 1/4% each year until 6% is reached, which is to be the rate thereafter. See V. 84, p. 449, 930; also terms in V. 84, p. 1489, under Columbia Gas & Electric. Under agreement ratified in July 1915 the extents. and add'ns to Union Lt., Ht. & P. Co.'s property are to be paid for by the issue of new 50-year 5% bonds (see below) instead of by sale of stock of the Cincinnati co. as provided under the old agreement. V. 101, p. 694. The co. leases jointly with the Western Union Telegraph Co. for a period of from 20 to 30 years the Dixie Term. Bldgs., which opened for service on Oct. 22 1921.

The controlled Cinc. Cov. & Erlanger St. Ry., which was incorp. Sept. 1899 with $250,000 stock (shares $50) to build an extension to Erlanger, 7 1/4 miles (about 3 m. completed), has been leased to the Columbia Gas & Elec.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—A trolley road. Connects Cincinnati, Covington, Newport, Bellevue, Dayton, Clifton, Southgate, Fort Thomas, Fort Mitchell, West Covington and Ludlow. Total in operation, 69 miles. Union Light, Heat & Power Co. serves the same municipalities with gas and electricity and 3 with water.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—The co. owns or controls and operates an extensive system of properties engaged primarily in the generation, transmission and distribution of electric energy. The high-tension transmission lines of the co., which are interconnected with those of other large electric power cos. in neighboring States, constitute an important part of the super-power system of the South. The electric light and power business contributes more than 72% of the aggregate gross earnings, the balance being derived from railway operations. The steam plants of the system are largely held in reserve for operation at periods of peak load or low stream flow and to assure at all times continuity of service throughout the territory served. The field of operation of the system embraces a large part of the State of Tennessee, extending nearly 200 miles from east to west and 100 miles from north to south, and includes Nashville, Chattanooga, Knoxville and other cities having a total estimated population of over 550,000.

The electric generating stations of the system have an installed capacity of 282,980 electrical h.p., of which 144,260 is in water-power plants. The principal hydro-electric station is located at Hales Bar on the Tennessee River and has a capacity of 54,240 h.p. Other important water-power plants include the Parksville and Ocoee No. 2 stations on the Ocoee River, with capacities of 30,150 and 24,120 h.p., respectively, and the Great Falls Station with a capacity of 35,510 h.p. The steam generating plants include the 53,620 h.p. station at Hales Bar, the Nashville station with a capacity of 64,000 h.p., and the Parksville steam station adjoining the Parksville hydro-electric station, with a capacity of 20,100 h.p. The extensive transmission system includes 794 miles of lines of steel tower and substantial wood pole construction, over which energy is transmitted at high voltages to 87,382 retail customers and to a substantial number of important wholesale customers and local distributing companies which in turn sell power and light at retail in restricted territories. The transportation systems in Nashville and Chattanooga comprise 170 miles, measured as single track, 277 railway cars, and 18 motor buses.

In July 1924 acquired the properties and franchises of the Cumberland Power Co., Maryville Lighting Co., Madisonville Light & Power Co., Lenoir City Light & Power Co. and the electric power properties of the Long Mfg. and Tellico River Lumber cos. V. 119, p. 199, 2180. In 1926 co. purchased for $410,000 the Harriman (Tenn.) municipal light and water plant. V. 123, p. 845.

Franchise.—See V. 118, p. 1912.

Merger Upheld.—On Feb. 14 1924 Chancellor James B. Newman of Part II, Davidson County (Tenn.) Chancery Court, handed down a decision in favor of the co. in suits brought against it, alleging that the recent consolidation was in violation of the State's Anti-Trust Law. V. 118, p. 908. See also V. 120, p. 584. Compare V. 115, p. 309, 989.

MISSOURI

UNITED RAILWAYS CO. OF ST. LOUIS.

Is controlled by North American Co. of New York.
Receivership & Reorganization Plan.—Since April 12 1919 co. has been in the hands of a receiver. V. 108, p. 1823, 2331. A plan of reorganization dated Oct. 1 1924, was adopted by the reorganization committee and approved by a number of the various security holders' protective committees. For the various committees and details of the plan we refer to "Public Utility Compendium" of May 2 1925 and V. 119, p. 2531.

New Company Formed.—On Jan. 16 1926 the reorganization committee formed a new co., the St. Louis Public Service Co., which was to purchase the street railway properties at foreclosure. See for names of incorporators V. 122, p. 483.

In Feb. 1926 receiver Wells entered into contract with the reorganization committee, whereby $4,200,000 of receiver's certificates would be paid in full in cash ($2,300,000 by receiver and $1,900,000 by committee), and $4,100,000 underlying bonds were to be exchanged for gen. 4% bonds. V. 122, p. 1028. Trustee was ordered to issue to the committee $6,000,000 additional bonds for $4,100,000 underlying bonds and $1,900,000 cash. The unissued $3,700,000 gen. 4s were to be cancelled. V. 122, p. 1172.

All of the outstanding series B receiver's certificates were called for payment on April 1 1926 at 100% and int. See V. 122, p. 1313, 1612.

Rights.—On or before May 1 1926 pref. stockholders were given the right to subscribe for new com. stock of St. Louis Public Service Co. (the new co., see above in this statement) at $12 50 per share on the basis of 1 1/2 shares of such new com. stock for each share of pref. held. Subscriptions payable in installments. See particulars in V. 122, p. 1918.

Holders of common stock who had deposited their stock under the plan and agreement dated Oct. 1 1924, were given the right to subscribe on or before July 15 1926, at $12 50 per share for new com. stock (if, as and when issued) of St. Louis Public Serv. Co. theretofore offered to but not subscribed for by holders of pref. stock of United Rys. Co. V. 123, p. 208, 713. The right to purchase was on the basis of 1-10 of a share for each 1 1/2 shares represented by subscription receipts. V. 122, p. 3455.

ORGANIZATION.—Incorporated in Missouri on March 11 1898 as the Central Traction Co., but changed its name to above on July 10 1899. On Dec. 31 1906 absorbed the St. Louis & Suburban Ry., giving its pref. stock, share for share, for the stock of that company. The United Rys. guarantees the $4,500,000 gen. mtge. bonds of the St. L. & Sub. Ry. See V. 83, p. 39; V. 84, p. 105. In 1908 acquired a controlling interest in the Missouri Electric Co., successor to the St. Louis St. Charles & Western RR., which was sold at foreclosure in July 1905. For receivership and reorganization see above.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—The United Railways Co. comprises all the street car lines in operation in St. Louis, except Illinois Traction system operating out of St. Louis into Illinois. On Dec. 31 1925 owned total of 462.32 miles of track (including the St. Louis & Suburban), of which 347.28 miles are in the city and 115.60 miles are county track. Has 1,587 passenger cars, 2 special cars, 2 express cars, 7 snowplows and 35 snow sweepers, 3 electric locomotives and 161 service cars of various kinds. Total, 1,819. The company was originally leased to the St. Louis Transit Co., but under a readjustment arranged in Oct. 1904 by Messrs. Brown Bros. & Co. (V. 79, p. 1333), the lease was canceled and the $17,264,300 stock of that company nearly all exchanged for voting trustees' certificates for common stock of the United Railways Co. on the basis of $500 Transit stock for $200 voting trustees' certificates. Voting trust has expired and com. stock has been issued for trust certificates. Under this plan the $20,000,000 refund, and impt. mtge. bonds of the St. Louis Transit Co., of which $8,000,000 has been issued, were cancelled, and in their place the same company issued $10,000,000 of 5% improvement bonds guar. by the United Rys. Co. of St. Louis, this guaranty being secured by a mortgage on all of that company's property next in rank to that of its general mtge. These improvement bonds are now the only outstanding security of the Transit Co.

Holders of St. Louis Transit Co. Impt. 20-Yr. 5% Gold Bonds, Due Oct. 1 1924, were given the right to subscribe for new com. stock of St. Louis Public Service Co. at $12 50 on the basis of 10 shares of such new com. stock for each $1,000 bonds held. Subscriptions on or before May 1 1926 and payable in installments. V. 122, p. 1919. Int. on the above St. Louis Transit Co. Impt. 5% gold bonds to April 1 1926 was to be paid. Funds for that int. were provided by receiver. V. 122, p. 2045. See also V. 122, p. 2949. Listed on New York Stock Exchange.

Power.—Power is partly purchased from the Union Electric Light & Power Co. (successor to the Mississippi River Power Distributing Co.). See V. 111, p. 1662; also, V. 112, p. 2529.

Valuation.—&c.—The Missouri P. S. Commission in a decision handed down on June 4 1923, found the value of all property of the company, exclusive of its subsidiary, the Missouri Electric RR. Co., as of Jan. 1 1919 to be $52,838,110, and fixed the value of the Missouri Electric RR. Co. as of Jan. 1 1919 at $781,949. The valuation fixed by the Commission was accepted by all interested.

Decisions.—On Feb. 26 1917 the Missouri Supreme Court held that the P. S. Comm. had no auth. to compel the company to extend its tracks on streets on which it held no franchises. Also held void two sections of the city charter conferring upon the city the power to regulate its public utilities.

Fare Situation.—See "Electric Railway" Supplement of Apr. 26 1924. Fare increase sought by Receiver Wells in June 1926. See V. 122, p. 3343.

City Purchase Plan.—See V. 118, p. 2181.
Bus Operations.—See V. 119, p. 1627.

CAPITALIZATION.—The following show the securities that will be outstanding after the proposed readjustments under the above-mentioned reorganization plan of Oct. 1 1924 have been completed:

Bonds.—Of the $45,000,000 general first mortgage bonds originally authorized, $3,000,000, which had been previously reserved for the purpose of retiring bonds of the St. Louis & Suburban system, in case of purchase, have been canceled, making the total authorized issue now $42,000,000, of which $9,768,000 are reserved for the retirement of underlying liens. In Aug. 1919 $1,932,000 bonds of this issue which were owned by the company were ordered canceled by the Federal Court. V. 111, p. 787. The bonds are secured by all the stocks of the constituent companies, and by direct mortgage lien upon their property and franchises. In 1903 the general mortgage bonds were listed on the New York and Philadelphia stock exchanges (see V. 76, p. 980; V. 89, p. 995), and in April 1906 the St. Louis Transit Co. improvement bonds were listed on the New York Stock Exch.

Interest Advanced by Protective Committees.—The Jan. 1 1924 interest on the first gen. mtge. 4s was advanced by the three protective committees for this issue. V. 118, p. 204. Up to May 1925 the committee had not yet been reimbursed by the receiver. The July 1 1924 coupon was paid by the receiver on Dec. 31 1924, together with interest on each coupon at 6% per annum. The committee for the St. Louis Transit Co. 20-year 5% improvement bonds advanced to such of its depositors as so desired the amount of interest due and in default April 1 1924 on those bonds, and announcement has been made that, should Oct. 1 1924 interest be defaulted, the committee will advance same to depositing bondholders. V. 118, p. 1667; V. 119, p. 1511. Interest advanced by Protective Committee paid Feb. 15 1926 by order of court. On May 20 1926 Federal Judge Faris at St. Louis, Mo., granted authority to Rolla Wells, receiver, to pay the semi-annual interest, due July 1 1926, on these bonds. V. 122, p. 2950. For payment of interest due Jan. 1 1927, see V. 124, p. 114. See also above in this statement under headings "Rights."

120 Broadway New York

Chicago Grand Rapids Detroit
San Francisco St. Louis

ORGANIZATION, &c.—Organized in 1926 in Virginia to acquire all int. of Commonwealth Lt. & Pr. Co. and Interstate Electric Corp. (see below), V. 122, p. 2328. All obligations and stock of the Interstate Electric Corp. are to be retired, and all obligations of the Commonwealth Lt. & Pr. Co. are likewise to be retired, except the Commonwealth Lt. & Pow. Co. refunding and unifying bonds as security for which 100,000 shares class A common stock and all of class B common stock of Inland Power & Light Corp. are to be pledged and deposited. Inland Power & Light Corp. is to cause the physical properties of the Kansas subsidiaries to be transferred by consolidation or otherwise to the new Kansas Co., and is to cause similar steps to be taken in the States of Michigan, Arkansas, Missouri and Texas, to the end that in each State, so far as permitted by law, there will be one principal company which will own all, or substantially all, of the properties in that State by direct or stock ownership. These several State operating companies are then to be refinanced, principally through the issuance of 1st mtge. bonds of long term and relatively low interest rate, and all existing indebtedness of the various Commonwealth Lt. & Pow. Co. and Interstate Electric Corp. subsidiaries which is of early maturity or which bears interest at a high rate, is to be retired. The plan and agreement for exchange of securities was dated April 1 1926 (V. 122, p. 2494, 3339) and declared operative in Feb. 1927 as to all classes of securities deposited thereunder. Deposits of securities will be received up to March 19 1927. An announcement was made that corp. was to issue, in addition to the stocks and bonds exchanged, $3,000,000 1st mtge. bonds and $2,000,000 pref. stock. Corporation's stock was to be listed on Chicago Stock Exchange. For details about exchange of securities, see "Public Utility Compendium" of Oct. 30 1926; also V. 122, p. 3210; V. 123, p. 324, 1762, 2900; V. 124, p. 372, 506, 1359.

When the plan is consummated, all common stock of the operating cos. presently controlled by Commonwealth Light & Power Co. and Interstate Electric Corp. will be deposited to secure the 1st coll. trust gold bonds (of which there will be several series) of Inland Power & Light Corp.

Missouri Public Service Co.—In April 1927 A. E. Fitkin & Co. advised that they had purchased for the account of the Inland Power & Light Corp. all of the physical property and assets of the West Missouri Power Co. This property, together with the Treanton Gas & Electric Co., the Peoples Gas & Electric Co., and the Missouri Electric, Gas & Water Co., will be merged into and with the Missouri Public Service Co., which has been incorporated in Missouri. V. 124, p. 2279.

CALIFORNIA

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

ORGANIZATION.—Incorporated in California Oct. 10 1905 as a consolidation. In Oct. 1919 purchased the properties and substantially all of the $10,000,000 capital stock of the Northern California Power Co., consolidated at $34 per share. In Dec. 1926 purchased the Municipal gas system of the town of Santa Clara.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Owns and operates extensive properties employed in the production and sale of electricity and gas for light, heat and power, about 62% of its revenues being derived from electricity and about 34% from gas. It also owns and operates the entire street railway system of Sacramento, 46 miles of track, and is engaged in the sale of steam for heating and of water for irrigation and domestic purposes, deriving approximately 5% of its revenue from these and other less important activities. In 1926, however, co. sold a group of water properties in California to Federal Water Service Corp., V. 123, p. 3039; V. 124, p. 373. Sold Deer Creek water system to Nevada Irrigation District, V. 123, p. 3184. At the end of 1926 co. sold its telephone properties, V. 124, p. 373. All the properties owned in fee except those of the Mt. Shasta Power Corp. and California Telephone & Light Co. (of which the company owns the entire outstanding stock) and those leased from the Sierra & San Francisco Power Co. and Yuba River Power Co.

The operations of the company extend into 38 counties of central and northern California, having an area of 59,000 square miles and an estimated present population of approx. 2,500,000. The business field embraces the important San Francisco Bay section and the fertile Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. The company serves 8 of the 12 largest cities in California.

At the close of 1925 the company operated 28 hydro-electric generating plants having an aggregate installation of 536,829 h. p., four modern steam turbine electric plants with an aggregate installation of 190,349 h. p., also 266 substations and over 13,500 miles of transmission and distribution lines with a connected load of 1,640,770 h. p. A new station was opened in Aug. 1925, adding 108,580 h. p. to the total installed capacity, making the total hydro-electric capacity 536,829 h. p. Sales of electric energy in 1926 were 1,511,000,000 k.w.h., an increase of 162,000,000 k.w.h. over 1925, or 12%. See about new construction, incl. the Salt Springs development, the Melones Power House, the Spaulding-Drum development, &c., V. 124, p. 373, 922.

The gas department includes 17 manufacturing plants with an aggregate capacity of 112,100,000 cubic feet per day and 4,468 miles of mains. Gas sales in 1926 totaled 17,480,000,000 cu. ft., a gain of 1,279,000,000 cu. ft. or 8% over 1925.

In Dec. 1919 leased for 15 years the properties of the Sierra & San Francisco Power Co., V. 109, p. 2362. In Nov. 1925 applied to California RR. Commission for authority to purchase and operate the Middle Yuba Hydro-Electric Co., Nevada County, Calif., V. 121, p. 2521. In Dec. 1925 applied for authority to purchase the Sacramento Gas Co. from E. H. Rollins & Sons, thereby eliminating the gas competition in Sacramento, Calif. For further details, see V. 121, p. 3132. In Aug. 1926 co. completed negotiations for the purchase of Sacramento Gas Co., which furnishes gas in Sacramento and Lodi, Calif., V. 123, p. 1114. Acquisition in 1926 of the Bell Electric Co., which had been selling and distributing electricity in Auburn, Calif., and vicinity, V. 123, p. 1383.

Franchises in substantially all of the cities and towns served, it is claimed, are perpetual, the U. S. Supreme Court on April 6 1914 having ruled that all franchises of public service corporations within the State of California obtained prior to Oct. 10 1911 were of perpetual duration and could not be altered.

75-cent gas rate in San Francisco held valid by U. S. District Court but reversed by U. S. Supreme Court June 2 1924. Company collected at 85-cent rate during years in litigation. See V. 109, p. 2444. Rates, V. 113, p. 195, 499; V. 113, p. 77, 967; V. 115, p. 655; V. 118, p. 916; V. 118, p. 2959; V. 120, p. 1089. Proposed acquisition of distributing system by city of San Francisco, V. 117, p. 1563. Refusal of company to sell, V. 117, p. 1786.

On Feb. 11 1925 the stockholders approved an increase in the authorized bonded debt from $160,000,000 to $250,000,000. V. 120, p. 958. Compare V. 120, p. 88.

In March 1925 the company was authorized by the Calif. RR. Comm. to issue $14,399,000 gen. & ref. 5% bonds to be deposited with the trustees under its first and refunding mortgage. V. 120, p. 1460. Compare V. 120, p. 1204. In May 1925 to issue on or before March 30 1926 at not less than $104 per share, 23,570 common shares (par $100). V. 120, p. 2270. In Dec. 1925 to issue and sell $2,500,000 of 6% pref. stock. V. 121, p. 3132. About issuance of 50,000 additional common shares, see V. 121, p. 3005, 3132.

Gas Rates Reduced.—Reduced in San Francisco June 1 1925. V. 120, p. 2944. In Jan. 1926 the City Attorney of San Francisco advised the City Supervisors to accept a compromise offered by the co. to the City of San Francisco to clear up rate litigation hanging fire since 1915. Co. offered to refund $990,000 to consumers out of a disputed $1,940,000. For particulars see, V. 122, p. 214.

Financing of Melones Dam Hydro-Electric Power Development.—See for particulars about this dam and the financing of it, V. 121, p. 459, 587.

Sued for Fire Liability.—In Sept. 1925 the company was made defendant in 630 suits filed by 60 insurance companies to recover approximately $4,000,000 in connection with the great Berkeley fire of 1923. V. 121, p. 1570.

Owns all the outstanding capital stocks, except directors' qualifying shares and all the bonds of Nevada-California Power Co., Southern Sierras Power Co., Interstate Telegraph Co., Hillside Water Co., Cain Co., Imperial Ice & Development Co., Deseret Water, Oil & Irrigation Co., Yuma Utilities Co., Sierras Construction Co., Silver Lake Power & Irrigation Co.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.

The system is engaged in generating hydro-electric power on the eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada Mountains and in transmitting such power over an extensive transmission system, extending throughout southwestern Nevada and the entire eastern section of California from the middle of the State south to the Mexican line.

Owns and operates 11 hydro-electric plants having a total installed generating capacity of 93,420 h. p., together with supplementary steam plants which bring the total generating capacity up to 105,020 h. p.

The main hydro-electric plants are located in California, on Bishop Creek, in Inyo County, and on Owens River, and Leevining, Rush and Mill Creeks in Mono County. The Bishop Creek water, by means of connecting pipe lines, passes consecutively through five generating plants (aggregating 43,520 h. p. generating capacity). Both the Bishop Creek and the Mono County water sheds are situated well up in the Sierra Nevada Mountains where the deep winter snows furnish natural reservoirs which the summer sun melts, causing the water to run down into the impounding reservoirs and thence through the power plants. As a result of an important contract between The Southern Sierras Power Co., a subsidiary company, and the San Diego Consolidated Gas & Electric Co., executed in 1924, a tie line making physical connection of properties of the two companies has been completed, and has been in continuous use since Aug. 1924 in helping to meet requirements in Imperial Valley. This tie line provides an additional 12,500 h. p. standby capacity service for the southern part of the system and also permits the sale of surplus power to the San Diego company.

Surplus power is interchanged with the Southern California Edison Co. through physical connections at Colton and San Bernardino. The system also transmits a general telegraph and telephone business, operating 650 miles of line paralleling the power system. In addition, it operates an extensive ice manufacturing business in southern California.

The system has 1,671 miles of high-tension transmission lines, of which 238 consist of a double circuit three phase 140,000 volt steel tower line. The remaining transmission lines cover 83 miles of 140,000 volt single circuit wooden and steel pole lines, 332 miles of 88,000 volt single circuit wooden pole lines, 317 miles of 55,000 volt single circuit wooden pole lines, 16 miles of 33,000 volt double and single circuit steel pole lines, 481 miles of double and single circuit, 33,000 volt wooden pole lines, and 204 miles of double and single circuit, 17,000 and 11,000 volt wooden pole lines. In addition, there are 808 miles of wooden pole distribution lines of 6,600 volts and under. V. 122, p. 3453.

Note.—Stock subscribed for but not fully paid in: Common, $3,306,275; pref. series A, $122,500; series B, $3,708,600.

Stocks.—All classes of stock have equal voting power. Original pref. receives 5% cum. divs. before any other class of stock. The pref. stock is divided into 4 classes as indicated in the above table, series A, B, C and D, and receives, after all cum. divs. on the original pref. for all previous years have been paid respectively, 7, 6, 5 1/2 and 5% and no more. Except as to div. rate, no distinction or preference exists among said 4 series of pref. stock. The pref. divs. are cumulative and payable before common stock receives any divs. Original pref. is entitled to participate in any distribution of surplus or net profits to pref. stock to the extent that such distribution shall, as to any series of pref. stock, be greater than 5% and such right of participation is cumulative. After original pref. and pref. stock have received all such divs., common stock is entitled to divs. up to 7%, 6%, 5 1/2% or 5%, respectively, provided any pref. stock, series A, B, C, or D, respectively, is outstanding. Any balance is then applicable to payment of further divs. equally per share upon original pref. and common stock.

As to assets, original pref. is entitled to par and divs. before all other stocks. Thereafter, pref. receives par and divs.; thereafter common receives par; if any balance is left, same is to be distributed ratably to the holders of original pref. and common stock.

The pref. stocks may be increased or diminished by a vote representing at least 2-3 of the entire subscribed or issued capital stock of the corp. All series of pref. stock are red., all or in part, at $28.75 and divs. Divs. on the pref. stock shall also be cumulative, and shall be payable before any divs. on the common stock shall be paid or set apart.

The common stock is listed on New York Stock Exchange.

Change of Stock.—On Sept. 7 1923 stockholders increased the authorized capital stock from $100,000,000 ($4,000,000 5% cum. original pref., $36,000,000 pref. stock, and $60,000,000 common stock) to the total aggregate amount of $250,000,000, to consist of $4,000,000 original pref., $121,000,000 pref. and $125,000,000 common stock. On March 10 1926 stockholders reclassified the outstanding capital stock, 4 shares of $25 par to be issued for each $100 par share. V. 122, p. 750, 1764. Road operates over private right-of-way, except in the cities. Franchises in all the cities of the system run for 50 years. The necessity for this action was ascribed to years of unprofitable operation due to jitney competition, which is now regulated. See V. 106, p. 497.

GATINEAU POWER CO.

Control.—Co. is a wholly owned subsidiary of International Paper Co.

ORGANIZATION.—Incorp. in Quebec, Canada, in 1926. In March 1927 co. acquired Papineauville Elec. Co., with electric plants of total capacity of 25,000 h.p. V. 124, p. 1509.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Co. owns in fee or holds through long-term Government leaseholds water power sites in the Province of Quebec, Can., with an aggregate potential capacity in excess of 700,000 h.p. Co. is undertaking a development program calling for completion by the fall of 1928 of four hydro-electric plants with an initial aggregate installed generating capacity of 397,500 h.p., of which 373,500 h.p. is on the Gatineau River, which enters the Ottawa River from the north in the vicinity of the city of Ottawa. Two of the developments with over half of the initial capacity lie within 7 miles of that city. The Kipawa plant at the outlet of Lake Kipawa, Que., is almost completed up to a capacity of 24,000 h.p. The Chelsea and Farmers plants on the Gatineau River are to be completed up to their initial installed capacities of 131,000 h.p. and 92,500 h.p., respectively, early in 1927. Construction work on the fourth development, the Pagan plant, was to be started in the fall of 1926 and to be in operation by the fall of 1928 with a capacity of 150,000 h.p. A storage dam is being constructed at Bitobi Rapids, 90 miles above the Pagan plant, which will create a storage reservoir of 107 sq. miles and a capacity of 82,000,000,000 cu. ft. This reservoir, which is to become the property of the Province of Quebec and operated by the Quebec Streams Commission, will equalize the flow of the Gatineau River. The three power plants on the Gatineau River have been designed to permit the comparatively inexpensive addition of an aggregate of over 100,000 h.p. additional when the water storage facilities are increased, making a total capacity of about 500,000 h.p.

Under the terms of a 30-year contract with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, the Commission is to purchase 80,000 h.p. of electric energy during the 12 months beginning Oct. 1 1928, the amount increasing annually thereafter to a maximum of 260,000 h.p. during the 12 months beginning Oct. 1 1931, which rate is continued throughout the life of the contract.

In addition, Canadian International Paper Co. is to purchase under a 30-year contract a minimum of 74,000 h.p. per annum, and the Canada Cement Co., Ltd., has contracted to purchase 3,000 h.p. per annum for an initial period of 15 years from Oct. 1 1930, subject to renewal. V. 123, p. 454.

Bonds.—The 1st mtge. gold bonds 5% series, due 1956, are secured by a direct 1st mtge. and hypothec on all properties presently to be owned by co. Certain of the transmission lines may be owned by a subsidiary, all of the securities of which are to be pledged under the trust deed. No funded debt in addition to the $37,500,000 1st mtge. g. bonds and $12,500,000 6% gold debentures is issuable against the existing development up to the initial capacity of 397,500 h.p. of the Pagan, Chelsea, Farmers and Kipawa plants. Add 1 bonds of 5% series, due 1956, or of other series of such tenor as directors may determine, may be issued (a) for refunding an equal principal amt. of 1st mtge. of any series, or (b) for 75% of add'ns, incl. securities of other corporations supplying or transmitting elec. power, but only when net earnings, for 12 consecutive out of preceding 15 cal. months (together with 80% of estimated future net earnings from contracts as defined in the trust deed) have been at least twice annual interest on all 1st mtge. bonds outstanding, incl. proposed issue. Not more than 15% of aggregate amount of 1st mtge. bonds issued other than for refunding may be issued in connection with the future acquisition of securities of such other corporations, and then only upon pledge of all 1st mtge bonds of such other corporations which shall be at least equal in face amount to the bonds so issued; and the bonds so issued shall not exceed 75% of the property of such other corporations. The trust deed provides for the modification or alteration thereof or of any supplemental indenture, with the assent of holders of from 50% to 75% (depending upon the percentage, if any, opposed thereto) of aggregate principal amount of bonds, but does not permit extension of maturity or reduction of interest rate, or any other modification in terms of payment of such interest, without the consent of the holder thereof, or any change in the lien of the trust deed with respect to the property covered thereby. There is an annual sinking fund, payable in cash or bonds, commencing Dec. 1 1927, equal to ¼% of the greatest aggregate principal amount of 1st mtge. bonds at any time outstanding. Bonds acquired by sinking fund are to be cancelled forthwith.

5% series, due 1956, are red. on any interest date on 30 days' notice at 105 through June 1 1936; at 104 through June 1 1941; at 103 through June 1 1946; at 102 through June 1 1951; and thereafter and prior to maturity at 101; in all cases with interest. Penn. 4 mills tax refundable. In July 1926 Bankers Trust Co., Harris, Forbes & Co., Lee, Higginson & Co., Blair & Co., Inc., The Union Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, Continental & Commercial Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago; Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., and Redmond & Co. sold at 94 and int., to yield over 5.40%. $25,000,000 5% series, due 1956. V. 123, p. 454.

Guaranty of Completion.—A deposit sufficient to provide funds for the completion of the program up to the initial capacity of 397,500 h.p. is to be held in escrow, subject to withdrawal as expenditures are made, and is to be composed largely of cash and the balance of $12,500,000 1st mtge. bonds, International Paper Co. agreeing to find purchasers for these bonds as additional cash is required, and guaranteeing to provide any additional funds which may be necessary for completion of the initial development program.

Note.—International Paper Co. with its subsidiaries is the largest manufacturer of paper in the world and one of the largest holders of water powers in North America. Upon completion of the present development program of Gatineau Power Co., I. P. Co. with its wholly owned subsidiaries, will have developed water powers with a total installed capacity of almost 600,000 h.p. (500,000 h.p. hydro-electric and 100,000 h.p. hydraulic), capable of being increased through further development and through the utilization of undeveloped sites to about 1,400,000 h.p. V. 123, p. 454.

Debentures.—The 6% sinking fund gold debentures, due 1941, were to be listed on the Boston Stock Exch., and have a cumulative semi-annual sinking fund payable in cash on debentures at current redemption price, beginning June 15 1927, estimated to retire well over 40% prior to maturity. Red., all or part, on 30 days' notice at 105 to and incl. June 15 1931, and thereafter at ¼% less each succeeding year plus interest in all cases. Penn. 4 mills tax refundable. In July 1926 Bankers Trust Co., Harris, Forbes & Co., Lee, Higginson & Co., Blair & Co., Inc., The Union Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, Continental & Commercial Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., and Redmond & Co. sold $12,500,000 at 99½ and interest, to yield 6.05%. V. 123, p. 580.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS.—Net earnings from the Chelsea, Farmers and Kipawa plants available for interest and reserves, even before completion of the Pagan plant, will, it is estimated, be about 1.7 times annual interest on $25,000,000 1st mtge. gold bonds. Upon completion of all four power plants and the delivery of the ultimate amount of power under the contract with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, it is estimated that net earnings will be almost 3 times annual interest on $37,500,000 1st mtge. 5% bonds. V. 123, p. 454.

GERMANY

BERLIN CITY ELECTRIC CO. INC.

(Berliner Staetdtische Elektrizitaetswerke A.G.)

ORGANIZATION.—Berliner Staetdtische Elektrizitaetswerke A.-G., and Berliner Staetdtische Gaswerke A.-G., which latter company guarantees under-mentioned note issue of Berliner Staetdtische Elektrizitaetswerke A.-G., were organized by the City of Berlin, Germany, in 1923, for the purpose of separately operating the electrical and gas works formerly operated by the city, all the stock of both companies being owned by the City of Berlin. The first installation of electrical works was made in 1884, and of gas works in 1825. The electric power properties of the city have been leased to the company for a period of 50 years from Dec. 21 1923.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Berlin has a population of approx. 4,000,000. The electric company supplies about 90% and the gas company (Berliner Staetische Gaswerke, A.-G. see above) about 75% of the total consumption of the city in their respective fields. The electric company operates plants of over 205,000 k.w. capacity and also purchases a substantial amount of additional current. Co. is expanding its plants to a total capacity of 461,500 k.w. Owns over 8,000 miles of distribution lines. Current is supplied for domestic use as well as for the local street and underground railroad and for numerous industrial plants in the city and vicinity. Sales in 1924 over 462,000,000 k.w.h., for 1925 over 662,000,000 k.w.h. 417,000 customers.

The Gas Co. (see above) supplies gas for domestic and industrial use, and owns plants of over 64,000,000 cu. ft. daily capacity. Sales in 1924 about 11,200,000,000 cu. ft., and in 1925 about 13,800,000,000 cu. ft.

Rates.—The City of Berlin (which owns all the stock of both companies) has agreed to rates for both services sufficient to cover operating expenses rental (8% of gross), depreciation, interest and amortization of loans, and to provide working capital.

				Central Un. Tr. Co. of N. Y., Amer. trustee.
				Reichs-Kredit-Gesellschaft, A.G., Berlin, German trustee.

Note.—In consideration of the receipt, for construction purposes, of 72% of the proceeds of the $15,000,000 external loan of 1925 of the City of Berlin, the company has assumed 72% of the interest and amortization charge thereon. This obligation, however, ranks junior to all charges on the company's funded debt.

Notes.—$1,000,000 of the 6½% dollar notes dated Feb. 1 1926 is due Feb. 1 1928 and $2,000,000 Feb. 1 1929. Call, all or part, on 6 mos. notice, at par and int., with a premium of ½% for each unexpired year or fraction thereof. Principal and int. payable free from all present or future German taxes. Unconditionally guaranteed as to payment of principal and interest by endorsement by Berlin City Gas Co. (Berliner Staetische Gaswerke A.-G.) In Feb. 1926 Hallgarten & Co., &c., &c., offered $3,000,000 6½% notes at 99 and int., to yield over 7% for the 1928 maturity and at 98½% and int. to yield over 7% for the 1929 maturity. V. 122, p. 881, 1760. The gas co. has no funded debt, but the electric co. in 1925 secured a loan in Europe of 30,000,000 Swiss francs (about $6,000,000) due in 1940, the proceeds of the European loan and of this loan being used only in the construction of additional generating capacity. The European loan is the obligation of the electric co. and not secured by mortgage. The electric co. has agreed that if, during the life of this loan, it shall pledge any of its revenues as security for any other loan, these notes shall be equally and ratably secured thereunder.

Debentures.—The 25-yr. 6½% sink. fd. debentures dated Dec. 1 1926 are the direct obligation of Berlin City Electric Co., Inc. The City of Berlin (which owns all the properties operated by the company) has agreed that so long as the debentures are outstanding, it will not mortgage or otherwise encumber any of such properties, except subject to the co.'s lease. Neither will co., while the debentures are outstanding, mortgage or pledge any of its assets or revenues as security for any funded debt. There is a sinking fund of approx. $430,000, payable semi-annually, first payment June 1 1929, sufficient to retire entire issue by maturity by purchase at not over 100 and int., otherwise by call by lot at that price. Red., whole or part, on any interest date on 30 days' notice at 102½% and int. on or before Dec. 1 1931, and thereafter at 100 and int. Principal and interest payable at Dillon, Read & Co., New York, in U. S. gold without deduction for any German taxes, past, present or future. Listed on Boston Stock Exchange; New York Stock Exchange listing to be applied for. In December 1926 Dillon, Read & Co., Hallgarten & Co., Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., International Acceptance Bank, Inc., and Mendelssohn & Co., Amsterdam (Holland), sold $20,000,000 at 98 and interest, to yield over 6.65%. A substantial portion of this issue had been withdrawn for simultaneous offering in Europe by Mendelssohn & Co., Nederlandsche Handelsmaatschappij, Pierson & Co., Amsterdam; R. Mees & Zoonen, Rotterdam, and others. V. 123, p. 3180.

Dawes Plan.—As co. is municipally owned, its assets are free from the so-called Dawes public mortgage. However, in accordance with the Dawes Plan, co. is obligated to make annual payments which during 1926 were to amount to approx. $65,000 and, on basis of present assessment, were estimated to reach a maximum of approx. $156,000 per annum during 1928 and succeeding years.

OFFICERS.—Managing Directors, Dr. Kauffmann and Mr. Rehner.—V. 122, p. 746, 881, 1760; V. 123, p. 3036, 3180.

BERLIN ELECTRIC ELEVATED & UNDERGROUND RAILWAYS CO.

[Gesellschaft fuer Elektrische Hochund Untergrundbahnen in Berlin.]

Control.—A majority of company's capital stock is owned by the City of Berlin.

ORGANIZATION.—Organized in 1897 as a private corporation to construct and operate electric elevated and underground lines in the City of Berlin and its suburbs, and began operation in 1902.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Company owns about 6 miles of elevated and 28.07 miles of underground lines (with a total of about 71.5 miles of track) and operates a total, incl. connecting lines, of about 33.1 miles. These lines constitute the entire electric rapid transit system in Berlin, the third largest city of the world, with about 4,000,000 inhabitants.

Power plant of 32,500 k.w., which generates most of the electric current required, the remainder being supplied chiefly by the Berlin City Electric Co. all the capital stock of which is owned by the city. About 800 cars.

Franchises, etc.—None of the franchises expire before 1975. The city has the right to acquire certain lines of the company in 1937 and at intervals of 10 years thereafter, however. Such purchase can only be made subject to the mortgage securing the 30-year 1st mtge. 6½% sinking fund gold bonds (see below). The city of Berlin owns the surface lines, operated through a company all the stock of which is owned by the city, and also controls through stock ownership the companies owning and operating the bus lines. The city thus owns or controls all of the transit facilities with the exception of the local steam railroad lines (Stadt- und Ringbahn) of the German National Railway Co. The city has entered into an agreement with the company providing that fares will be maintained adequate to insure earnings which will cover operating expenses, interest and sinking fund on all loans, depreciation and other necessary reserves, and that if, for any reason, the fares should not be maintained at such adequate rates, the city will provide the funds necessary for said purpose. V. 123, p. 2516.

times annual interest and sinking fund requirements on all bonds issued under the indenture, incl. proposed issue. There is a cumulative sinking fund of approximately 1.2% per annum, sufficient to repay the entire issue at or before maturity to be applied to the purchase of bonds at or below par and int., otherwise to redemption by lot at par and int. Of this amount $3,000,000 were withdrawn for sale in Holland by Hope & Co., Teixeira de Mattos Brothers and Deutsche Bank, Amsterdam. Co. covenants that as long as any of these bonds are outstanding, it will not initiate or permit rates which would be insufficient to produce annual net earnings equal to at least 1½ times interest and sinking fund on all of its outstanding funded debt. ## ELECTRIC POWER CORP.

(Elektrowerke Aktiengesellschaft.)

Controlled by United Industrial Corp. ("Viag"), which owns the entire capital stock. The entire stock of Viag is owned by the German Government.

ORGANIZATION.—Through the merger of various companies in 1921, corp. attained major importance and now supplies electric power within a territory having a population of over 16,000,000.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Corp. supplies power entirely at wholesale, over 60% of its output being sold to distributing systems serving the Province of Brandenburg, incl. the City of Berlin, the Province of Saxony, the Free State of Anhalt and the Free State of Saxony. In this manner corp. supplies about 75% of the current consumed by the City of Berlin.

Corp.'s properties include 3 large modern power plants with a total installed capacity of 312,000 k.w., and approx. 628 miles of 110,000-volt transmission lines. These lines, with connecting 110,000-volt lines owned by various distributing companies served, form a total inter-connected 110,000-volt system of over 1,200 miles of lines. Its 3 large steam plants are adjacent to extensive lignite coal fields owned by it and estimated to be sufficient to furnish its entire fuel supply for more than 50 years. 70,000 k.w. additional capacity are being installed and were expected to be completed early in 1926. Corp.'s transmission lines are also being extended into the Province of Silesia. V. 120, p. 1457; V. 121, p. 1568.

Relation to Dawes Plan.—Co. by reason of Govt. ownership (through Viag) of all of its capital stock, is now exempt from the operation of the so-called Dawes Plan. The German Govt., however, in order to equalize the reparations burden, requires the company to make certain annual payments, estimated as not exceeding $150,000, which are unsecured and correspond in amount to the annual charges for interest and amortization of Dawes Industrial debentures which would be imposed upon its properties if privately owned. #### RHINE-WESTPHALIA ELECTRIC POWER CORP.

(Rheinisch-Westfälisches Elektrizitätswerk Aktien-Gesellschaft.)

ORGANIZATION.—Organized under the laws of the German Reich and of the Free State of Prussia on June 24 1898. With its subsidiary cos., comprises the largest electric light and power system in Europe with respect to property value, earnings, capacity of power stations and number of customers served. Serves over 250,000 industrial and residential customers in a territory of nearly 6,000 sq. miles, and includes a large part of the Rhineland, extending from the Netherlands frontier on the north and west, into the Province of Westphalia on the east, and south to the River Ahr. This area includes the Ruhr District, the most important industrial section of Germany. The communities entirely supplied by the system have a population of approximately 4,000,000 and include the cities of Essen, Muehlheim-Ruhr, Gelsenkirchen, Crefeld, Muenchen-Gladbach, Weesl, Osnabrueck, Remscheid, Solingen and Neuss. In addition corp. furnishes electric energy to large portions of the cities of Cologne, Duesseldorf, Dulsburg and Oberhausen, and to the extensive plants of the largest inland harbor of Europe at Ruhrort.

The system includes 9 electric generating stations with an aggregate capacity of 635,000 h.p. The principal station, the Goldenberg plant, is one of the largest and most modern in the world, and has a capacity of 390,000 h.p. Its equipment includes four 67,000 h.p. steam-turbo units installed during the past 2 years. The transmission and distribution systems comprise over 600 miles of 110,000 volt steel tower lines and 8,250 miles of medium and low voltage lines which supply approximately 350,000 electric meters. The above figures do not include the many affiliated electric companies of whose stocks substantial amounts are owned. The electric output for the fiscal year ended June 30 1925 was 1,239,000,000 k.w. hours.

The fuel for corp.'s power stations is obtained almost entirely from hard coal and lignite mines owned by subsidiary cos. and located under or immediately adjoining the stations. The hard coal mines, estimated to contain 75,000,000 tons (of 2,000 pounds), are being mined at the rate of 1,400,000 tons a year. The lignite mines are estimated to contain 450,000,000 tons, and the power stations of the corp., which are designed to burn this fuel efficiently, consume appr. 4,000,000 tons a year. In the second half of 1925 corp. acquired a half interest in a company, located in the central part of Germany, which owns an electric distribution system and lignite mines having about 160,000,000 tons of fuel recoverable by the open pit method.

Corp. has under construction or in contemplation a number of extensions to its transmission system, including a line 300 miles in length (150 miles now nearing completion) to connect with hydro-electric power developments in southern Germany. These new high tension lines will be operated initially at 230,000 volts but are designed for an even higher pressure.

Corp. also owns a modern coke oven plant which supplies gas at wholesale to the City of Essen, and a high pressure gas transmission system with 150 miles of pipe lines, through which were delivered during the past fiscal year, 2,400,000,000 cu. ft. of gas obtained from neighboring coke oven plants. Corp. also owns the entire capital stock of two relatively small electric railway companies, and operates under lease several municipally owned lines.

Control.—The various municipalities and provinces served, together with the State of Prussia and the German Reich, own a substantial majority of corp.'s stock. V. 121, p. 2404

(Oberpfälzwerke Aktiengesellschaft fuer Elektrizitätsversorgung)
Control.—The Oberpfalz district as well as the towns and communities, served are majority stockholders of the company.

ORGANIZATION.—Organized in 1908 as Bayerische Ueberlandzentrale Aktiengesellschaft in Ibenhann. Changed its name to present title in 1923. V. 123, p. 582

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Company furnishes the territory of the Oberpfalz with electric current. The Oberpfalz is a densely populated section in northeastern Bavaria, covered by an extensive net of railroads connecting it with central and northern Germany. The River Naab, a large tributary to the Danube, extends throughout this whole section. Area, 3,789 sq. miles; population, 620,000. Principal cities served are Regensburg, Amberg, Auerbach, Bellingries, Berchinsg, Burglengenfeld, Cham, Erbendorf, Eschenbach, Grafenwoehr, Hemau, Hirschau, Kemnath, Nabburg, Neumarkt, Neunburg v. W., Neustadt a. W. N., Neustadt a. K., Pfeifend, Pleystein, Pressath, Roetz, Schwandorf, Sulzbach, Velberg, Vilseck, Waldmuenchen, Weiden and 1,200 smaller communities. V. 123, p. 582.

The system owns one large modern steam electric generating plant at Penholz and the two hydro-electric plants Pfeifendstalsperre and Tanzmuehle on the Naab River. Combined capacity of co.'s properties is approx. 17,200 k.w. Upon completion of certain contemplated extensions the capacity will be very considerably increased.

In addition to its generating plants, the company entered into an agreement with the Bayernwerke (Bavarian Works) which have a capacity of about 200,000 k.w., securing the sole distributing rights in the Oberpfalz until Sept. 30 1950, and maintains for this purpose one principal substation in Regensburg of 10,000 kva. and one principal substation in Amberg of 10,000 kva.

The coal used for the steam electric generating plant is mined at the adjoining coal mine "Haidhof," which belongs to co. and has a coal reserve of 4,500,000 tons, estimated sufficient for at least 25 years' operation. The coal is conducted from the mine by means of an automatic conveyor system directly to the boiler house.

The transmission system consists of over 77 miles of high tension lines of 35,000 volts, carried on structural steel towers; over 1,100 miles of 6,000 volt, 10,000 volt and 20,000 volt transmission lines and over 930 miles of low voltage lines; 950 transformer and two switching stations and an extensive distribution system reaching 40,000 customers who consumed over 30 million k.w.h. in 1925.

Franchises.—Under the terms of its franchises co. has the right to use Bavarian State property for its transmission lines and has the exclusive right, with small local exceptions, to furnish electric current to the communities served and to charge rates that will insure successful financial operations. ### SAXON PUBLIC WORKS, INC.

(Aktiengesellschaft Saechsische Werke).

ORGANIZATION.—Organized in Dresden, Germany, Nov. 13 1923 under the laws of the German Reich and the Free State of Saxony. Since its organization all of the capital stock of the company has been and still is owned by the Free State of Saxony. At the time of its organization the company took over from the Free State of Saxony all of the electric power plants and coal mines owned and operated by the State since 1917, as well as certain stock interests in similar enterprises which had been acquired by the State. Co. controls Electric Power Works of West Saxony.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Company is primarily engaged in the generation of electric energy through steam power plants, and its transmission and distribution throughout the State of Saxony and in certain adjacent territories. The territory served has a total population of over 5,000,000, with an aggregate area of about 6,950 square miles, and includes Dresden, with a population of about 608,000, and Leipzig with a population of 660,000. The present electric generating plants of the co. have a capacity of 327,000 h.p. (incl. 133,000 h.p. in process of installation). The power is delivered through a transmission and distribution system, including 1,782 miles of high tension lines. Of the foregoing, over 265 miles are 100,000-volt lines of steel tower construction. V. 126, p. 706.

Electrical Output (Current Delivered in Kilowatt Hours).

1919	60,846,639	1922	243,249,296	1925	486,681,704

Coal.—Company's coal fields cover an aggregate area of approximately 83,000 acres. Most of the coal is of the so-called "brown coal" or lignite character. Although this coal in its raw state has a relatively low heating content as compared with the best grades of American bituminous coal, it can be extracted at an extremely low cost through the system of open surface workings (which permits the use of continuous bucket dredging and other labor-saving machinery), inasmuch as the average depth of surfaces before reaching the coal strata is only 8 to 16 yards, below which the coal strata extend for a further depth of 20 to 60 yards. Consequently the coal can be delivered to the company's adjacent electric plants at an extremely low cost per unit of heating value.

The output of brown coal from the mines owned has increased from 676,000 tons (of 2,000 lbs. each) in 1917 to over 2,000,000 tons in 1925. Over two-thirds of the output is used in the company's power plants and the balance is either sold to industrial customers in its raw state or is compressed in briquette form (thereby increasing its heating value nearly three times by the elimination of excess moisture) and retailed to local customers in the surrounding territory.

Through more than 1,900 borings the company's brown coal reserves have been reliably established by independent experts at over 3,700,000,000 tons, of which over 3,200,000,000 tons can be extracted through the above described method of open workings.

Stock.—The 20,000 shares common series A and 20,000 common series B shares have an aggregate par value of 40,000,000 marks ($9,523,809). In Sept. 1926 we were informed that the State expected shortly to purchase 60,000,000 marks ($14,285,714) par value additional stock, 25% to be initially paid in.

Bonds.—The 1st mtge. 20-year bonds, in addition to being unconditionally guaranteed by the Free State of Saxony as to principal and interest by endorsement on each bond, are secured by a direct 1st mtge. under German law on substantially all of the real property of the co., now owned or hereafter acquired with the proceeds of the bonds, incl. the electric power plants and coal mining rights, subject, as to certain relatively unimportant parts of the property, to liens aggregating less than $643,000 and on certain recently acquired property, to the charges securing approximately $262,000 "Dawes Debentures" existing at time properties were acquired. Inasmuch as all of the stock of the co. is owned by the State of Saxony, the co. is not required under the Industrial Charges Law (Industrie-Belastungs-Gesetz, Aug. 30 1924) to issue either negotiable or non-negotiable debentures under the so-called "Dawes Plan." In accordance with another law which effects a further internal distribution within Germany of the burden of the so-called "Dawes debentures," the co. will be required to make certain annual payments, the amount of which, it was stated, will not exceed $57,000 p. a.

The bonds are redeemable as a whole on Feb. 1 1930 or thereafter prior to Feb. 1 1935 at 105, and on or after Feb. 1 1935 at 100. Sinking Fund.—Beginning Aug. 1 1935 a sinking fund will operate to retire semi-annually 1-20th of the principal amount of bonds of this issue outstanding on Feb. 1 1935, either by delivery to the trustee of bonds by the company, or by redemption thereof by lot at 100.

Listed on the New York Stock Exchange.
The gen. & ref. mtge. bonds are unconditionally guaranteed by the Free State of Saxony as to principal and interest by endorsement on each bond. They are secured by direct mortgages on the operating properties of co. and Electric Power Works of West Saxony, subject only to the charges securing less than $706,000 industrial debentures issued under the "Dawes Plan" and to $15,918,692 closed mortgages on the property. Additional gen. & ref. bonds may be issued: $15,000,000 against acquisition or retirement of outstanding 1st mtge. bonds, and $20,000,000 for 50% of cost of fixed property of co. or its constituent cos. (or for the cost of stocks of a constituent co. owning fixed property), acquired after May 1 1926, which fixed property shall be mortgaged as security for the gen. & ref. mtge. guar. g. bonds, provided net earnings after operating expenses, maintenance and taxes for 12 consecutive calendar months have been not less than twice annual int. on all underlying bonds in hands of the public and all gen. & ref. mtge. bonds outstanding, incl. proposed issue, and the maximum annual fixed charges on any industrial debentures. "Constituent cos." are those of whose stocks at least 90% is owned by the co. and whose properties are mortgaged as security for the gen. & ref. mtge. bonds. Additional bonds may be issued in series, from time to time, of such tenor as co. may determine. A semi-annual sinking fund is to begin Feb. 1 1930, calculated to retire, prior to maturity, more than 60% of 6½% series, due 1951. In the case of each new series a sinking fund is to be created to retire not less than half of aggregate principal amount of the bonds of such series issued. 6½% series, due 1951, are red., all or part, at option of co. or by the sinking fund on any int. date, on 30 days' notice at 100. The National City Co. and Lee, Higginson & Co. sold in July 1926 $15,000,000 6½% series, due 1951, at 91½ and int., to yield 7.24%. The entire issue amounted to $15,000,000, of which, however, $4,000,000 had been withdrawn for offering in various European markets, incl. $2,000,000 to be placed in the Netherlands by an Amsterdam group composed of Nederlandsche Handel-Maatschappij, Mendelssohn & Co. and Pierson & Co. ## UNTERELBE POWER & LIGHT CO.

(Elektrizitaetswerk Unterelbe, Aktiengesellschaft)

Control.—Co.'s entire capital stock (20,000,000 R. M. par value) is owned by the City of Altona.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Founded in 1912. Co. supplies elec. pow. and lt. without competition in the City of Altona and certain nearby districts. In addition, in 1926 it acquired from the City of Altona the gas and water properties (exclusive of old administration building) which supply the entire requirements of the city and part of the surrounding territory. These gas and water properties will continue to be operated as heretofore through Altona Gas & Water Co. (Altonaer Gas- und Wasserwerke G. m. b. H.), all of whose capital stock has been acquired by the Unterelbe Pow. & Lt. Co. from the city. The total population thus served directly and indirectly by the company with electricity, gas and water is approximately 260,000. Sales of electric current, about 37,996,000 k.w.h. in 1924 and 44,612,000 k.w.h. in 1925. More than half the current sold in 1925 was delivered to industrial users. Sales of gas in 1924 and 1925 were in excess of 741,000,000 cu. ft. and 831,000,000 cu. ft., respectively.

The electric properties consist of a plant having an installed turbo-generator capacity of 26,000 k.w., together with high-tension lines for transmission of current to outlying districts and a distribution network within the city providing for a total connected load of in excess 60,000 k.w. New plant to be constructed will bring total generating capacity to 60,000 k.w., as well as extend the transmission and distribution system to care for the rapidly increasing demand in the territory served.

The gas and water properties directly owned by co. and operated through its wholly owned subsidiary consist of (a) gas generating facilities capable of producing daily a total of 3,500,000 cu. ft. of coal gas (with by-products), and delivering gas to consumers through about 47,000 meters; and (b) a water filtration, central pumping and supply plant serving consumer through about 13,000 meters. Co. either owns or has the exclusive right to use gas and water distributing systems appurtenant to these plants.

Franchises.—In city of Altona, exclusive franchises granted by the city and extending beyond 1941.

Bonds.—The 15-yr. 7% s. f. mtge. gold bonds, dated Oct. 1 1926, are secured by a direct mortgage in the gold mark equivalent of at least the principal amount of bonds outstanding on co.'s electric light and power properties, gas generating plants and its water filtration, central pumping and supply plant. This mortgage is a first mortgage on co.'s electric light and power properties and a direct mortgage on the gas and water properties, subject to a repurchase right with respect to the water works property effective only if the property ceases to be used as a water works, and to a prior lien in the maximum amount of $140,476. This lien secures a debt of the City of Altona which was not assumed by co. and the city has indemnified co. against any liability for interest or principal thereon.

As co. is municipally owned, it is not subject to a capital charge under the Dawes Plan. However, in accordance with the laws of the German Reich, enacted to put the Dawes Plan into effect, co. is obligated to make annual payments which were estimated at a maximum of about $35,000 per year.

There is a sinking fund for the retirement by purchase or call at 100 and int. of $100,000 of bonds on or before April 1 1929, and a similar amount during each six months' period thereafter. It will be sufficient to retire $2,500,000 before maturity. In event of future issuance of $1,500,000 additional bonds, such semi-annual sinking fund is to be increased by $60,000 of bonds. The additional $1,500,000 may be issued only after improvements or extensions have been made to the mortgaged property having a cost or fair value (whichever is lower) of at least the amount of the proceeds of the original $2,500,000 issue, plus $2,000,000, provided net earnings of co. as defined in the indenture, after interest charges but before depreciation and royalties, during each of the two fiscal years immediately preceding such issue shall have been at least 3 times the maximum annual Listed on Boston Stock Exchange. V. 124, p. 235.

4. The 7% secured gold bonds, series F, dated Jan. 15 1927, are direct obligations of International Power Securities Corp. In addition, are secured by a closed first mortgage made to trustee by Societa Generale Italiana Edison di Electricita (Edison General Italian Electric Co.) and by one of its subsidiary companies, Societa Idroelettrica dell' Ozola (Ozola Hydro-Electric Co.). This mortgage equally and ratably secured 45,870,000 lire ($2,018,280) of outstanding debentures. The mortgage constitutes a first mortgage lien on six operating hydro-electric plants and certain transmission lines of company and said subsidiary, as well as on a steam generating plant under construction; and in addition is a joint and several general obligation of company and its said subsidiary. Total capacity of plants mortgaged 235,980 h.p., including 26,800 h.p. initial capacity to be installed in the new steam plant. There is a sinking fund payable semi-annually, sufficient to retire entire series F by maturity; this sinking fund commences on the first interest date and progressively increases from an initial payment of $45,000 to the final payment of $275,000, payable in cash or bonds of this series at par. V. 124, p. 645.

Adamello General Electric Co., Milan (Societa Generale Elettrica Dell' Adamello) (G. E. A.).

Organized in 1907 under Italian laws; derives its name from a group of glaciers located in the Italian Alps within 20 miles of the Swiss border and some 80 miles northeast of Milan. Adamellos is both an operating and a holding co., is interconnected with practically every important electric system north of Rome, and interchanges power with many of them. Among its most important holdings in other companies are participations of approximately 90% each in two hydro-electric generating subsidiaries known briefly as Ozola and Allione. These two subsidiaries, together with Adamello itself, are referred to as the Adamello System.

The business of the Adamello System consists almost entirely in the generation of hydro-electric power and the transmission of such power, plus a substantial amount of purchased power. The power is sold at wholesale to 17 customers located in Italy's principal industrial regions. Twelve of these customers distribute purchased electric power combined with power generated in their own plants, and together serve the larger part of northern Italy. These distributing customers include several of the most important electric companies of Italy, such as Edison General Italian Electric Co. of Milan and two associated companies. The Adamello System does very little retail distributing business.

It is estimated that Adamello's distributing customers together serve over 1,250,000 power and lighting consumers in a territory containing most of Italy's principal industries, and having over 21,000,000 inhabitants, or about 40% of Italy's total population. Over 380,000,000 k.w.h. of current were sold by the Adamello System during the 12 mos. ended Sept. 30 1926.

The present installed generating capacity of the Adamello System's eight operating power plants is 230,780 h.p., all of which is hydro-electric. Of this amount, 32,960 h.p. is in the two plants of the subsidiary Ozola and 21,600 h.p. is in the two plants of the subsidiary Allione. In addition to this, the system has under construction 100,500 h.p. of additional hydro-electric generating capacity and 26,800 h.p. of generating capacity in a new steam plant, the latter on the Po River at Piacenza. Upon completion of these installations by the end of 1927, the system will have a total capacity of 358,080 h.p. The system comprises 724 circuit miles of high tension lines on steel towers, 139 miles of which is 130,000 volts. Additional high tension lines are now under construction, including 155 miles of 130,000 volt steel-tower line. An interesting feature of the properties is the system of canals and tunnels which deliver water to the power plants, these canals totalling over 23 miles in length and, for the most part, driven through solid granite formation. There are 13 principal transformer and switching stations owned by the system.

Franchises are derived from the Italian Government and the shortest expires in 1969.

Total funded debt, in addition to the mortgage securing the above series F bonds, consists of 40,315,000 lire ($1,773,860) 6% obligations, and 5,555,000 lire ($244,420) 4½% obligations, which are to be amortized by 1936 and 1957, respectively, through gradually increasing yearly retirements. Neither Ozola nor Allione has any funded debt outstanding. V. 124, p. 641.

TOHO ELECTRIC POWER CO., LTD.

(Toho Denryoku Kabushiki Kaisha.)

ORGANIZATION.—Incorporated in its present form June 1922. Represents a consolidation of numerous predecessor companies (some of which began operations as early as 1889) which for many years had been primarily engaged in the distribution of electric light and power. Next to Tokyo Electric Light Co., Ltd., the largest retail distributor of electric energy in Japan.

FIELD OF OPERATIONS AND CHARACTER OF BUSINESS.—Directly or indirectly company supplies, practically without competition, electric light and power to more than 5,500,000 people in a territory of approx. 4,000 square miles. Company operates mainly in two distinct areas, the Kansai manufacturing district in and around Nagoya, Gifu, Nara and Toyohashi, in central Japan, and the industrially important Kyushu district in and around Shimonoseki, Fukuoka and Nagasaki, in southern Japan. These districts constitute two of the most important commercial and industrial sections of Japan.

Company generates and purchases power for distribution. The generating stations now owned or under construction have a total capacity of 220,893 k.w. Company also controls an additional 102,000 k.w. under favorable contracts, largely with closely affiliated companies. Other property owned or under construction includes substations with a total capacity of 537,335 kva. and more than 9,200 route miles of transmission and distribution lines, as well as many valuable water power sites, principally on the Tenryu River, which co. plans to develop. As is usual with Japanese electric distributing companies, company also often owns the fixtures and appliances used by its customers, in somewhat the same way as telephones are owned by the telephone companies in the United States.

In addition, co. owns all of the shares of the Toho Securities Co., which has investments in 18 utility and other companies, 8 of which are controlled by stock ownership. Among the companies so controlled is the Toho Gas Co., which does the entire gas business in Nagoya. Another substantial investment consists of stock of the Great Consolidated Electric Power Co. (DAIDO). Co. also engages in coal gas manufacturing and electric railway business as well as in real estate and forestry undertakings deriving about 6% of its gross earnings from these and other miscellaneous operating activities.

Company's system has 930,638 lighting and 30,241 power customers. V. 120, p. 1329.

Franchises.—Concessions for water rights and licenses for the generation and sale of power in Japan are granted under the authority of the Imperial Government, which has general supervisory power over such companies and reserves the inherent right to extend or revoke such grants under certain conditions. All important franchises of the company extend beyond 1955.

Bonds.—The 1st mtge. s. f. 7% gold bonds, series A, due March 15 1955, are secured by a first mtge. lien supplemented by assignments, and covering all of the co. property in the Kansai division incl. all after-acquired property in that division.

These properties constitute over 60% of the total physical assets of the co. and include generating stations with an installed capacity of 144,143 k.w. and approx. 4,735 miles of transmission and distribution lines. Franchises, licenses, water rights and power contracts cannot be mortgaged in Japan. A sinking fund is to retire at least $125,000 par value of bonds each 6 months prior to March 15 1930 by purchase in the open market, or by call by lot at par and int.; on Sept. 15 1930 and each succeeding interest date thereafter the sinking fund is to retire one-fiftieth of the bonds outstanding as of March 15 1930 through call by lot at 100% and interest. Thus the entire $15,000,000 will be retired by maturity. Call, whole or part, on 60 days' notice at 100 and int. Principal and int. payable in New York at Guaranty Trust Co. of N. ## Inter-State Commerce Commission's Order Calling for Depreciation Accounting System by Steam Railroads and Telephone Companies

One of the most important recent orders of the Inter-State Commerce Commission is that calling for the adoption of a depreciation accounting system by steam railroads and telephone companies. The Commission's decision in the matter was made public Dec. 1 1926. It is expected that the Commission will in the near future issue an order also regarding the depreciation charges of electric railways. The order of last December is not altogether to the liking of railroad accounting offices. This was commented upon in the "Wall Street Journal" of Jan. 10 1927, which said:

In a few words, the opposition of railroad officers to any extension of depreciation accounting arises from the belief that it will prevent, or at least limit, the adjustment of total operating expenses to gross revenues in a given year. Revenues will fluctuate, but under a system of taking care of property renewals and replacements through a reserve created through fixed annual charges to depreciation, expenses of maintenance will tend to follow a fixed line. The result, in their opinion, would be to increase the disparity in net earnings between good years and bad. Incidentally, such accounting would tend to expand the recapturable excess of net earnings in good years and to reduce net earnings in poor years. It would almost wholly remove flexibility from the handling of maintenance.

Among other objections to the order, probably the most vigorous is addressed to a provision requiring the carriers to "make a subdivision or redistribution of their road and equipment investment accounts as between each of the primary accounts embracing depreciable property and all other primary accounts," &c.

The "Railway Age" likewise took occasion to refer to the effect of the order, the following being from its issue of Dec. 18 1926:

Probably few of those who have studied the Inter-State Commerce Commission's order in the depreciation case, have made up their minds as to exactly where the Commission's findings are going to lead. It is admitted that the decision is far-reaching. There are some who fear that the financial position of certain roads may be affected adversely by the effect on their earnings statements of increased charges to operating expenses for depreciation and the setting up of depreciation reserves from surplus. Other authorities will be curious to learn whether the Commission can reconcile its order with the United States Supreme Court decision in the Indianapolis Water case where the expression is used "less depreciation, if any." There is much curiosity also as to how the provisions of the order are to be carried out, notably with reference to depreciation of rail, ties, ballast, &c., in connection with which it will be difficult to determine what constitutes a unit for retirement and replacement.

The complexities of the accounting phases of the order are going to give the railway accounting officers one of the busiest years they have ever had. Those who have read the Commission's decision will have noted several statements that this or that particular matter is to be left for further discussion between the I. C. C. Bureau of Accounts and the accounting associations of the carriers. The Railway Accounting Officers Association, moving with its usual dispatch in such matters, has already appointed a sub-committee of its committee on general accounts to take up this matter. The sub-committee consists of E. M. Thomas, Comptroller of the Chesapeake & Ohio; E. H. Kemper, Comptroller of the Southern, and C. E. Hildum, Vice-President of the Lehigh Valley. All three are railway accounting officers of high standing in the profession and leaders in the activity of the association, which indicates the importance the latter gives to the problems involved.

The Committee's greatest task in its conferences with the Bureau of Accounts will no doubt be to assist in working out methods of making the depreciation order effective without undue accounting expense. It will have the great advantage that, as a result of the progress made during the last several months on the proposed revisions of the accounting classifications, the relations of the Bureau of Accounts and the Railway Accounting Officers Association are most harmonious. The accounting officers seem on the whole to be in about the closest and most friendly contact with the Commission of any railroad department which, of course, is an important asset in discussing such a complicated matter as depreciation accounting.

In its original reference to the order (in its Dec. 4 number) the "Railway Age" stated:

Orders were made public by the Inter-State Commerce Commission on Dec. 1, following an extensive investigation of the entire subject of depreciation, requiring all steam railroads subject to the Inter-State Commerce Act and all telephone companies of Class A, B and C to institute, effective on Jan. 1 1928, a system of depreciation accounting on the straight-line basis, covering, in the case of the railroads, 44 classes of common-carrier property, and in the case of the telephone companies 26 classes of fixed capital. The 44 classes of railroad property include 36 road accounts and 8 equipment accounts.

Percentage rates of depreciation are not prescribed in the order but each railroad is required to file with the Commission by Sept. 1 1927 estimates of the composite percentage rates applicable to the ledger values of the respective primary accounts, accompanied by a sworn statement showing the bases therefor and the methods employed in their computation, and following an office check of such data the composite percentage rate of depreciation which shall be charged with respect to each such primary account will be prescribed for each company by temporary order of the Commission, subject to subsequent modification from time to time in accordance with the procedure set forth in the Commission's report.

Another requirement of the order is that the railroads estimate in accordance with the principles set forth, the amount of past accrued depreciation as of Jan. 1 1928, and credit to the depreciation reserve such portion as has not previously been so accounted for, debiting a corresponding amount to a suspense account on the assets side of the balance sheet for clearance later.

Each railroad is also required to include in its annual report to the Commission a concise statement by primary accounts of the extent, if any, to which ordinary maintenance of its property has been neglected or deferred during the year.

With the orders the Commission made public a report of some 100 pages by Chairman Eastman discussing and giving the Commission's findings on many points on which he says a wide and striking difference of opinion was developed at the hearing, involving a basic question partly of fact and partly of theory. Extensive hearings were held by the Commission on the subject, pursuant to the provision in the Transportation Act which required the Commission to prescribe the classes of property for which depreciation charges may properly be included under operating expenses and the percentages which shall be charged with respect to each class. The report deals with many questions pertaining to the valuation of and net return on railroad property, and among the reasons given for the requirements is that depreciation accounting is a necessary measure of self-protection to the carriers, in view of decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States that accrued depreciation must be deducted in determining the rate base. It is also stated that "depreciation accounting in the long run is less burdensome than retirement accounting to patrons and investors and conforms to the principles of conservative and constructive finance."

Depreciation Reserves.

Steam railroad companies have heretofore been required to accrue depreciation on equipment, although the percentages have not been prescribed, and the report states that on Dec. 31 1922 the Class 1 roads had a total balance in depreciation reserves of $1,230,207,559, or 7.56% of the total investment, and that of this $1,181,383,728 represented reserves for depreciation of equipment and the balance represented reserves for depreciation of fixed property.

At the hearings the railroad, gas and electric light companies had taken the position that a railroad or public utility property is a composite of many separate units and should be so considered with respect to depreciation; that there is not depreciation in the composite property so long as it is well maintained; and that the retirements of most units of a large composite property tend ultimately to equalize. The railroads also contended that the Commission has no power under the law to require them to set up depreciation charges but that the authority conferred was to prescribe the classes of property and the rates of depreciation to be used by the carriers in the event they elect to set up depreciation accounts.

The classes of property for which depreciation accounting is required by the order are as follows:

Road—	Signals and interlockers.
Underground power tubes.	Power dams, canals and pipe lines
Tunnels and subways.	Power plant buildings.
Bridges, trestles and culverts.	Power substation buildings.
Elevated structures.	Power transmission systems.
Ties.	Power distribution systems.
Rails.	Power line poles and fixtures.
Other track material.	Underground conduits.
Ballast.	Miscellaneous structures.
Right-of-way fences.	Paving.
Snow and sand fences and snowsheds.	Roadway machines.
Crossings and signs.	Shop machinery.
Station and office buildings.	Power plant machinery.
Roadway buildings.	Power substation apparatus.
Water stations.	Equipment—
Fuel stations.	Steam locomotives.
Shops and engine houses.	Other locomotives.

Storage warehouses.	Passenger-train cars.
Wharves and docks.	Motor equipment of cars.
Coal and ore wharves.	Floating equipment.
Gas producing plants.	Work equipment.
Telegraph and telephone lines.	Miscellaneous equipment.

The Commission's findings, which are of considerable length, were summarized in the Dec. 11 issue of the "Railway Age" and we quote therefrom the following:

Summary of Commissioners' Findings.

1. Proceedings instituted under paragraph (5) of Section 20 of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended Feb. 28 1920, which requires the Commission, as soon as practicable, to prescribe, for carriers subject to the Act, the classes of property for which depreciation charges may properly be included under operating expenses, and the percentages of depreciation which shall be charged with respect to each of such classes of property, classifying the carriers as it may deem proper for this purpose.

2. With the exception of land and grading, most property units which make up the plant of a railroad or telephone company are gradually worn out in operation or are abandoned from time to time in favor of better substitutes.

3. The cost of property thus consumed or abandoned is plainly a part of the cost of rendering service, and the accounts should conform to and adequately record this fact.

4. The contention that the retirements of most units of a large composite railroad or telephone property tend to equalize, i. e., become the same in amount from year to year, is not adequately supported by data of record. The evidence indicates that the opposition to depreciation accounting is based partly on a desire to adjust retirement charges from year to year in accordance with financial needs.

5. The cost of rendering service involved in the consumption or abandonment of depreciable units of property is not adequately recorded when no account is taken of this cost prior to the time of retirement of such units. An adequate record requires proportionate, periodical charges, i. e., depreciation charges, throughout the service lives of the units.

6. The depreciation reserve is a record of the undoubted fact that the service lives of existing depreciable property units have, to a certain extent, been consumed.

7. Depreciation accounting is a necessary measure of self-protection to the carriers, in view of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States to the effect that accrued depreciation must be deducted in determining the rate base.

8. All things considered, depreciation accounting, in the long run, is less burdensome than retirement accounting to patrons and investors. It conforms to the principles of conservative and constructive finance.

9. Future service lives can be estimated with sufficient accuracy, subject to public supervision and to modification and correction from time to time, to meet the needs of depreciation accounting.

10. No good purpose is served, so far as depreciation accounting is concerned, by attempting to distinguish between present and future patrons and their interests. The purpose of depreciation accounting is to charge the cost of current consumption of property in service against the current users of the property. But the method of spreading such cost over a period subsequent to the retirement of the property is available for use in emergencies.

11. The need for depreciation accounting is emphasized by the provisions of Section 15a of the Interstate Commerce Act relative to the recapture by the Government of excess income and by the existing situation with respect to the public regulation of both steam railroad and telephone companies.

12. Depreciation accounting is supported by prior decisions of the commission in valuation proceedings, by decisions of the United States Supreme Court, and by the decisions of other courts and of Federal and State commissions. It is also in general accord with the provisions which, at the present time, are embodied in the accounting classifications of steam railroad companies and telephone companies, and which were included in those classifications when Section 20 of the Act was amended.

13. The provisions of paragraph (5) of Section 20 of the Act specifically empower the commission to require and prescribe the amount of depreciation charges. The general power to prescribe a uniform system of accounts also implies and includes power to require accounting for depreciation.

14. Telephone property, although used largely for local business, is subject to Federal regulation when it is subject to interstate use.

15. Depreciation accounting for telephone companies, Classes A, B, and C, is practicable, but the determination of depreciation percentages for the various classes of telephone property is a task as to which the commission may well avail itself of the co-operation, services, records, and facilities of State commissions, under the provisions of paragraph (3) of Section 13 of the Interstate Commerce Act.

16. Depreciation is the loss in service value not restored by current maintenance other than extraordinary repairs and incurred in connection with the consumption or prospective retirement of property in the course of service from causes against which the carrier is not protected by insurance, which are known to be in current operation, and whose effect can be forecast with a reasonable approach to accuracy.

17. Depreciation expense is based upon the original cost of the property in question to the accounting company, and depreciation accounting requires an analysis of the investment and apportionment of appropriate amounts to the primary accounts covering depreciable property, under road and equipment for steam railroads and under fixed capital for telephone companies. The accounts of the steam railroad companies, in general, now furnish no adequate record of property costs, but the deficiency may be supplied, with sufficient accuracy for the purposes of depreciation accounting, by appropriate use of the inventories of our Bureau of Valuation. Rules prescribed accordingly for the distribution of the investment account of steam railroads. It appears that the investment accounts of telephone companies are, in general, sufficiently adapted to such accounting; but if it should develop that they are not so adapted, this matter can then be dealt with.

18. The total expense of depreciation in connection with any unit of property is its service value determined by taking into consideration ledger value, net salvage value, and extraordinary repairs, as these terms are defined in the report. The cost of removing property or recovering salvage at time of retirement should be deducted in determining net salvage value. The retirement of continuous structures, such as fences, snowsheds, &c., and of certain other units of property, such as equipment, is postponed either materially or indefinitely by the application of piece-meal renewals or rebuilding programs, both of which are termed in the report "extraordinary repairs." It is essential to a properly comprehensive system of depreciation accounting that provision be made in the reserve for such extraordinary repairs.

19. Property once acquired should remain in the plan account at its cost until it is finally abandoned or it put to a new use different from that for which it was originally installed.

20. The sinking-fund and straight-line methods of accounting for depreciation compared, and for reasons stated, the latter approved.

21. The various classes of telephone and steam railroad property considered and their depreciable nature discussed. Classes of property found subject to depreciation specified.

22. The unit and group plans of accounting for depreciation compared, and the latter approved. Groups of property and reserves applicable thereto should correspond with the primary accounts in road and equipment of steam railroads and of fixed capital of telephone companies, including improvements on leased railway property. Operating companies must also account for depreciation charges on leased property.

23. Impossible to prescribe uniform depreciation percentages for the various classes of depreciable property, applicable to all companies alike. Method of determining depreciation percentages for individual companies prescribed, co-operation with the State commissions in the supervision of this matter being provided for in the case of telephone companies. Both classes of companies required to keep adequate property records and maintain, in convenient and accessible form, engineering data bearing upon prospective service lives.

24. Some classes of property are of such a character that it is not practicable to keep individual unit costs. In determining the debits and credits to the various accounts under depreciation accounting, amounts for specific units to be used so far as practicable; but, where that is impracticable, average amounts to be used.

25. While certain causes of the retirement of property are not factors to be included in the estimate of depreciation charges, all losses at time of retirement required to be charged to the depreciation reserve, with provisions for compensating adjustments where necessary.

26. The amount of accrued depreciation not previously accounted for by steam railroads, as of the date depreciation accounting for fixed property becomes effective, required to be computed and shown in the accounts in accordance with a prescribed method of adjustment.

27. The cost of extraordinary repairs when made and the service value of property when retired required to be charged to the appropriate primary accounts under maintenance expenses and concurrently corresponding amounts released from the depreciation reserve to special credit accounts provided for that purpose under maintenance expenses.

28. Each carrier required to include in its annual reports to the Commission a sworn statement showing, by primary accounts, the extent to which ordinary maintenance has been neglected or deferred.

29. Depreciation accounting, as prescribed in the report, ordered to become effective Jan. 1 1928.

Extracts from the Report.

Some extracts from Chairman Eastman's report and a separate concurring opinion by Commissioner Woodlock are as follows:

To carry out these provisions we organized a depreciation section in our Bureau of Accounts with instructions to make a preliminary investigation, with respect to each class of carriers, and report its tentative conclusions and recommendations. In pursuing its inquiry the depreciation section sought the co-operation of the carriers, of the State commissions, and of all others interested in the subject. Each carrier of every class was called upon to submit information based upon its past experience as well as its views with respect to classes of depreciable property and percentages of depreciation. A committee was also appointed by the National Association of Railways and Utilities Commissioners. In the case of the steam railroads, a committee for purposes of co-operation was selected by the Railway Accounting Officers' Association in conjunction with the President's Conference Committee on Valuation, the American Short Line Railroad Association being also represented.

As a result of its preliminary investigations, the depreciation section issued a tentative report in No. 14700 upon the depreciation charges of telephone companies on March 10 1923, and a similar tentative report in No. 15100 upon the depreciation charges of steam railroad companies on Aug. 23 1923. These tentative reports were widely distributed, and in both cases were used as the basis for public hearings at which all interested parties were given opportunity to submit evidence. Following these hearings, the two proceedings were jointly assigned for argument before the entire Commission.

The hearings developed a wide and striking difference of opinion upon a basic question partly of fact and partly of theory. This question is of such controlling importance that we shall discuss it at the outset. It must be determined before the numerous questions of law to which the proceedings have given rise can profitably be discussed. Representative of the opposing views are the position of the telephone companies, on the one hand, and the position of the railroad, gas, and electric light companies, on the other hand.

If properly maintained, the railroads say, the composite property does not depreciate or lessen in value or service ability. In fact it may be worth more to a prospective purchaser when seasoned by long-continued operation than when new. No reserve is needed to protect the integrity of the investment, but the creation of such a reserve may be desirable to spread the cost of retiring certain large units of property and prevent a disproportionate burden upon the operating expenses of any one year. In the case of a large, composite property which has "struck its gait," it is claimed that retirements of most property units are about the same in amount from year to year, so that there is no need for such an equalizing reserve. In the case of the larger units, there may be such needed, but the reserve should be called a "retirement" rather than a "depreciation" reserve. Its amount is not a matter of mathematical computation from theoretical service lives, but rather a matter of judgment. Where property is unexpectedly retired, not because it has been worn out, but because some more efficient substitute has been developed, the cost of retirement should be spread, not over the past, but over the future, so that the burden may fall upon those who gain the benefit from the enhanced efficiency. The ascertainment of service lives, upon which the gas and electric companies call "theoretical depreciation charges" are dependent, is, they say, a wholly impracticable undertaking requiring a knowledge of the future which no one has. It is contended that the making of such depreciation charges merely results in the accumulation of a huge reserve which will in time fluctuate around 50% of the recorded investment; that such a reserve serves no useful purpose; and that it is a burden both upon the patrons of the company and upon the investors in its securities. If it were to be assumed that the composite property would at a certain time come to the end of its life, there might be need for such a reserve, but in most cases such properties may for all practical purposes, it is asserted, be regarded as perpetual.

The question raised by this divergence of opinion merits the most careful consideration. There is general agreement that, with the exception of land and grading, most of the property units which make up the plant of a railroad or telephone company are gradually worn out in operation or are abandoned from time to time in favor of better substitutes. There also can be no doubt that the cost of such worn-out or abandoned property units is a part of operating expense to be charged against the service. The basic question is whether such cost should be charged in bulk at the time when each unit is retired, or should be anticipated by periodical installments spread over its service life.

While the steam railroad, gas, and electric companies insist that the retirements of most units of a large, composite property tend ultimately to equalize, that is, to become the same in amount from year to year, no data were presented which furnish adequate support for this contention, nor is it confirmed by our own records. Furthermore, one of the chief reasons why these companies object to depreciation accounting is apparently a desire to avoid such equalization of retirement expenses. They wish an opportunity when business is poor to postpone or defer retirements, and consequent charges to operating expense, until business is good. Unless this opportunity be afforded, they say that at times their credit may suffer seriously, either because of a suspension of diminution of dividends or because of an unfavorable showing of net income. This amounts to saying that they wish to use the expense of maintaining the property as a form of shock absorber, allowing this expense to fluctuate in harmony with relative prosperity.

Substitutes for Depreciation Charges.

While the steam railroads oppose the making of depreciation charges and the creation of depreciation reserves, they have in the past quite generally adopted and defended practices which, when analyzed, are shown to have in many respects much the same practical effect. Thus, prior to our uniform system of accounts, it was the practice of many of the steam railroads to charge to operating expense, not only the cost of repairs and retirements, but also the cost of additions and betterments in substantial amounts. That this was the practice can easily be shown by our own records; but that is unnecessary for its existence may be established by reference to certain decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States. After the establishment of the uniform system of accounts, which prohibits the charging of additions and betterments to operating expense, the railroads have consistently urged that they are entitled to earnings sufficient, not only to pay reasonable dividends, but also to permit the accumulation of a substantial surplus which may be invested in additions and betterments.

The Present Need for Depreciation Accounting.

The Inter-State Commerce Act now provides, in Section 15a, a rule for regulating the general level of railroad rates. They are to be adjusted so that the railroads will earn, by groups, or in the country as a whole, a certain definite return upon the aggregate fair value of their properties. Provision is made for the recapture by the Government of part of the earnings of companies which are fortunate enough to earn more than 6% upon such value. In order that these provisions of the law may be successfully administered, it is necessary to have an accounting system which will disclose as accurately as possible the actual cost of operation. This is necessary for the protection both of investors and of the public. If more be included in operating expense than ought to be there, the public will suffer. If less be included, investors will suffer. This brings depreciation expense to the forefront. If the railroad, gas, and electric companies are correct in their contentions, then the present large amounts which are being charged each year for the depreciation of equipment and to some extent of fixed property ought to be eliminated from operating expense. And by the same reasoning the depreciation reserves for equipment which have been built up, amounting all told to more than one billion dollars, ought to be made a part of accumulated surplus available for declaration of dividends. On the other hand, if the telephone companies are correct in their contentions, then regular amounts should be included annually in operating expense, not only for depreciation of equipment, but also for depreciation of any other kinds of steam railroad property for which such charges are not now accrued. And by the same reasoning the large amounts for the retirement of property which are included in operating expense in prosperous years and the lesser amounts which are included in years of depression should be eliminated and charged to the depreciation reserve. Moreover, if depreciation accounting be correct in principle, then the public regulating authority must be on its guard to prevent these charges from being made either smaller or larger than they ought reasonably to be made. Obviously a need for exact account in this respect exists, which has not heretofore existed, and this no doubt was recognized by Congress in the amendment to Section 20 under which this proceeding was instituted.

Quite apart from this special need to which Section 15a has given rise, there is a general need for accurate accounting as to operating costs which perhaps did not exist in the past or at least not to the same extent. In the early days of railroad construction and for many years thereafter, railroads were dealt with very much as other private industries, and they offered a field for large speculative profits. That day has gone by and railroads are now confined, restricted, and supervised in almost every phase of their activities by public regulation. This regulation has eliminated much of the former risk of investment, but it has also eliminated much of the opportunity for large speculative profits. To attract investment under such circumstances the element of risk must be held within the closest possible limits, and this means careful provision against the uncertainties of the future. It also means a system of accounting which will disclose as nearly as possible the actual cost of operation which is presently being incurred, and which will reduce to a minimum the possibility of misleading investors by postponing to a later date the disclosure of any part of this cost. Nor does the need for such accounting exist only in the case of investors. The public served has an equal interest. In the old days of possible speculative profits the sequence of receiverships, reorganizations, and recoveries which so frequently occurred involved some temporary disturbance and impairment of service, but no lasting injury, since new capital could be drawn without much difficulty into the field which disaster had visited. It is doubtful whether disaster can be so easily repaired under present conditions. If the public is now to secure necessary extensions of service and to be in a position to reap the benefit of improvements in the art of railroading as they develop, reliance must be placed upon sound economy rather than upon speculation and chance.

In our opinion depreciation accounting satisfies the needs above set forth. The essential reason is that this method of accounting conforms with far greater accuracy than the retirement method to the actual facts with respect to operating costs. Neither investors nor the public are left in doubt in regard to the costs which are currently being incurred and ought currently to be met in the interest of prudent and sound economy. If these costs be met, the financial condition of the companies will be strengthened and they will be able to face the future with a greater degree of assurance. There will be no need for mortgaging the future to meet the debts of the past. Investors and the public generally will be protected against extreme fluctuations in operating expense and against an unnecessarily large volume of outstanding securities demanding interest or dividend payments. Depreciation accounting, in short, conforms to the principles of conservative and constructive finance.

In Conclusion.

The criticism most commonly urged against depreciation accounting and the plea most commonly offered for the retirement method is that the former is purely speculative while the latter rests upon a solid foundation of fact. Both arguments are fallacious. Depreciation accounting is speculative only in that it applies to the future conclusions drawn partly from past experience and partly from thorough knowledge of existing facts; the retirement method is, no doubt, founded on fact, but it neglects to take into account all the facts. Strict logic would require that the advocates of the retirement method should neglect to take into account accrued interest, accrued rentals, accrued taxes and audited vouchers, until such interest, taxes, and vouchers should have been actually paid. True, these and similar items can in general be estimated with greater mathematical accuracy, but it does not follow from this fact that depreciation charges cannot be calculated with a sufficient degree of accuracy to achieve their purpose.

With retirement accounting the books furnish a record which may be a wholly untrustworthy reflection of the facts. This has been demonstrated by experience time and again. By postponing needed retirements a company may make a showing of earnings which is designed to mislead investors and which will accomplish that result in the absence of an inquiry extending beyond the face of the accounts. On the other hand, by concentrating or accelerating retirements a company may, at least for a time, conceal prosperity which it does not wish to disclose. Even if there be no intent to mislead or deceive, the irregularity in retirements which is often inevitable may, and frequently does, produce that result. The facts in regard to the constantly accruing consumption of capital in service are not recorded; the record is in all cases deferred until the consumption is complete.

Depreciation accounting with all its difficulties is, we are persuaded, a method which will produce a much more nearly accurate reflection of the facts than will retirement accounting. While we do not minimize the difficulties and possible dangers, we are confident that in the course of actual practice and experience they will continually decrease in importance. In the early days of every form of public supervision of private enterprise the difficulties to be encountered create alarm by their apparent multitude and magnitude. In actual practice they gradually lose their formidable character as principles are developed and precedents set. So it will be with depreciation accounting.

Owing to the radical change in present methods of accounting which are involved in the case of steam railroad companies, the orders hereinafter entered are made effective on Jan. 1 1928, in order that there may be an adequate period of preparation.

Commissioner Woodlock in Concurring Opinion.

Woodlock, Commissioner, concurring:

I am in accord with the main principle expressed in this report. Most of the confusion of thought expressed in past discussion of the subject of depreciation in general and the necessity for depreciation accounting and depreciation reserves grows out of the failure to recognize the vital connection of the subject with the subject of valuation. If, as seems certain, "present value" for rate-making purposes is to be based largely upon reproduction cost, depreciation accounting by the straight-line method is absolutely necessary for preservation of the rights of carrier property owners. If original cost in any of its forms were to be the norm of value, then a fairly good case might be made by large and long-established carriers against the necessity for depreciation accounting at all, even by the sinking fund method because under the original-cost method of valuation no deduction from original cost for accrued depreciation as distinguished from functional depreciation resulting from under-maintenance, is required. There is, however, no present necessity to berate for loose logic contestants on either side of the argument as it has been conducted up to this time, for there is no essential dispute concerning the fundamental fact. Depreciation accrues in all properties, composite or otherwise, in some form a necessary charge upon the rates for service, should be so charged if accounts are properly to represent the facts, and, if properly assessed and charged, is neither undue burden nor undue benefit to any one. The courts having definitely committed themselves to the reproduction-cost method of ascertaining present value, straight-line depreciation accounting and depreciation reserves become a necessity. To that extent I agree with the report.

I do not agree with the view that the arguments against a general depreciation reserve, applicable to the entire property of a carrier, are "convincing" so far as the future is concerned. They are, no doubt, strong as applied to present practice in present conditions, but if a composite percentage can safely be applied to a group of property units, I fail to see why the same principle is not ultimately possible of application to a property as a whole, provided that that property continues reasonably stable as regards its composition. Time and experience will, however, be required to lay the foundation for application of general percentages; for the present it is perhaps sufficient to apply the group basis where it may prove to be convenient. The report, furthermore, fails to include in the items which it lists as depreciable property certain items which in the ascertainment of reproduction cost less depreciation are subjected to depreciation. I see no logic or justice in this. If we are to have depreciation accounting, account should be taken of every item depreciable in valuation, and depreciation reserves should be created for all such items. If this be not done an undue burden will be imposed upon property owners. That the items omitted are not many and not large is no reason for their omission—rather it is the reverse. Furthermore, I see no reason for requiring carriers to subdivide investment accounts upon their books in the manner prescribed by the report. It may be that our valuation inventories at 1914 prices do correspond fairly well to actual construction costs over a substantial period of years prior to 1914. The evidence supporting this statement, however, is not of record, and even if it were true it would still be unnecessary to require the carriers now to place upon their books figures reached in this way in lieu of their present investment accounts. These figures can easily be made the basis for setting up depreciation reserves (where such basis is not offered by the books) without placing them actually on the books. That is all that is necessary to enable the proper accounting to be made. It will be time enough to require a restatement of investment accounts upon carrier books when, as, and if, a really final determination of "present value" shall have been made.
